

PERSONAL NOTES

Arrivals and Departures of Residents and Visitors

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

The Column Everybody Reads—Chat About Your Friends and Neighbors—Here and There.

Mr. Dan Stiffler of Philadelphia spent Easter at his home here.

George Souser of Wolfburg, was in Bedford on business yesterday.

Colvin Wright of Havford College is home on his Easter vacation.

Miss Adrian Will of Cumberland visited parents over Sunday.

Miss Sara Long of Wilson College is spending her Easter at her home.

Mr. Ira Long of Pittsburgh spent Easter Sunday with his family.

The office of Dr. H. R. Brightbill will be closed from 5th to 8th of April.

Adam Banner and Vera V. Croyl of Bedford were married in Cumberland on last Monday.

Wm. E. Shroyer of Hyndman was married last week to Gentle Dewbliss of Warfordsburg.

Miss Elizabeth Thompson, of Goucher College is home here on her Spring vacation.

Herman Fetter, merchant of Salemville, was in Bedford on business Wednesday.

Irvin M. Ebersole, County Treasurer, transacted business in Schellsburg on Wednesday.

Mrs. Joseph Smith of Ligonier arrived in Bedford to visit friends on last Tuesday.

Messrs William and Walter McKinley of Cumberland visited their parents last Sunday.

Rev. J. Albert Eyer was visiting his parents at Thurmont, Md. during the past week.

I. S. Kagarise and family of New Enterprise were in Bedford on the 26.

Charles Reighard of Bedford township called at the Gazette office last Friday and paid up to 1922.

Mrs. Mary A. Koontz of Bedford, Rt. 2 called at the Gazette Office while in Bedford last Saturday.

H. H. Keller of Mann's Choice, Rt. 1 was a business visitor to Bedford on the 26th.

P. R. Elder of Buffalo Mills called at the Gazette office while in Bedford the day of the horse sale.

Dewalt Blackburn of New Paris was in Bedford on business last Saturday.

W. J. Winter and master Clair of Kearney, Broad Top Township was put into the 1922 class while in Bedford last Saturday.

Squire N. C. Markels of Clearville, Rt. 1 was transacting legal business in Bedford yesterday.

Lee Foreman of Snake Spring was a visitor to our office yesterday while in Bedford.

Humphrey Tate Hershberger of Cessna called at our office on the 29th to pay up subscriptions.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fodder were calling on old friends on South Juliana street the first of the week.

J. Floyd Murdock, jeweler, who has been spending some time in Chicago returned home Sunday evening.

C. L. Longenecker and wife and family who were in the South for the winter arrived in Bedford on last Sunday evening.

Robert Madore, son of B. F. Madore, Esq. of Dickinson College is spending his Easter vacation at home.

Miss Ruth Booty, of Carlisle is spending her Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Booty on John St.

Miss Alice Blackburn daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Blackburn and a student at Swarthmore, is home on her Easter vacation.

Watson Ward, of Clearville was in Bedford on business on last Saturday. He also brought a horse to the horse sale.

Harry Leonard, of Steubenville, Ohio is spending some time with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Charley Leonard on North Thomas Street.

E. H. Blackburn and D. W. Prosser have been taken to Cumberland for hospital treatment. Both have been ailing for some time.

Humphrey Dively and family moved to the Cessna property on South Richard St. on Monday. He bought both houses on same lot.

Chester Cessna and Philip C. Diehl of Rainburg, were in Bedford yesterday on business. They expect to sell some well-bred cattle in Friends' Cove on April 8.

Friday, March 25, Chester Conrad of Chaneyville and Edna I. Kuhn, of Baker's Summit were united in marriage in the Lutheran Parsonage by Rev. W. H. B. Carney.

Miss Vera Fletcher, of Swarthmore College came home last Thursday to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fletcher on East Penn Street.

Miss Anna Espenschiede, who is entered at Goucher College, Baltimore, is spending her vacation with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Espenschiede in the Ridenour Apartments.

Fred A. Metzger was called to Baltimore a few days ago by the critical illness of his only son, George, who was injured some months ago in a foot ball game at Annapolis and who has been undergoing treatment in the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Mrs. Margaret Bankes.

Mrs. Margaret Bankes, wife of John Bankes of Bedford, died Saturday afternoon in the Western Maryland Hospital, Cumberland, following a Caesarian operation and the birth of a baby boy. Her body was brought to her home on East Pitt Street Sunday night by Undertaker F. C. Pate; the baby passed away on the homeward journey. Mrs. Bankes was aged about 21 years and was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Deffbaugh of this place, having been united in marriage with John Bankes less than a year ago. She is survived by her husband, parents and the following brothers and sisters: Virginia, Emily, Fred and William Deffbaugh. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon, by Rev. W. H. B. Carney of the Lutheran Church and burial was in the Bedford Cemetery.

Mrs. Jennie Himes

Mrs. Jennie Himes, wife of A. J. Himes a prominent merchant and Coal Operator of Broad Top died March 17, 1921 aged 45 years, 8 months and 22 days. She was born at Broad Top and spent her girlhood days at Ray's Hill. On December 22, 1892 she was married to A. J. Himes. She was a loving and devoted companion and a friend to all who knew her. She was a member of the Church of God for a number of years and was a member of the Order of Rebecca of Six Mile Run. Her husband and one sister survive. Funeral services were held from her home in Coalvale on Sunday, March 22, and a sermon was preached by Rev. J. A. Dotter of Roaring Springs in the Lutheran Church of Ray's Hill, where her body was placed to rest in the cemetery adjoining.

Shannon Dibert

Shannon Dibert, died at his home near Intertown on last Friday, March 25, from an attack of appendicitis. He was the son of Michael and Catharine (Emler) Dibert and was born July 28, 1860. He was married to Sarah Dibert who survives him with the following children: Mrs. Lloyd Beagle of Pleasant Valley and Agnes, Adam and Scott at home. Mrs. John Trushheim of Buffalo Mills and Mrs. Cornell of Bedford are surviving sisters. The funeral took place on Monday at 10 o'clock being presided over by Rev. W. H. B. Carney of the Lutheran Church and interment in the Pleasant Valley Lutheran Cemetery. He was a lifelong member of the Lutheran Church. He was also a member of Bedford Lodge, I. O. O. F. He owned the old Dibert home on the house being built in 1813 by his great grandfather, Frederick Dibert. He was president of the Dibert Clan and its reunions and during his presidency he had markers made for all the graves in the Dibert cemetery.

TO ALL FOREST FIRE WARDENS

Every forest fire that occurs in Pennsylvania during the next three months should be turned into a source of strength in the campaign for preventing further fires. This can best be done by giving every fire the fullest possible publicity in the newspapers throughout the State, in order to let the people know just what is happening.

This is the critical time for forest protection. The success of our campaign against forest fires depends very largely on what the public knows.

Every Forest Fire Warden can help by sending complete details of every fire, no matter how small it may be, to the District Forester. Such complete report should include the following information: when it occurred, where it occurred, how it occurred, how it was fought, how it was finally put out, the number of men who fought the fire, who discovered the fire, estimate of the damage to soil and growing stock, (direct and indirect damage), and any other facts or illustrative details that can be obtained. This report should be rushed to the District Office as soon as possible. Use telephone or telegraph. GET IT IN.

Sincerely yours,

Gifford Pinchot,

Commissioner of Forestry.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Norman Burkett of Harrison township and Marie Fochtman of Juniata township.

Chester Conrad of Chaneyville and Edna Kuhn of Baker's Summit.

Ray V. Koontz and Daisy Pearl Nevitt of Colerain.

ENTERTAINMENT

The Charlesville band will hold an entertainment at Charlesville next Saturday evening April 2, Exercises to begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Sergeant George Mowry formerly of Mann's Choice and who is now stationed at Camp Benna, Georgia expects a commission soon and in all probabilities will be sent to foreign service. Mr. Mowry enlisted with Co. L. of Bedford and was discharged in 1919 but reenlisted in January 1920.

Did you ever notice that the most common scenery on a railroad trip from here to Altoona is cinders? If you have not noticed this try looking out the window with your eyes.

JOHN BORROUGHS DIES SUDDENLY ON TRAIN IN OHIO

"How Far Are We From Home?" His Last Words—Was Anxious to Pass 84th Birthday There.

HIS BODY IS BROUGHT TO WEST PARK FOR BURIAL

Devoted His Life to the Study of Nature and Earned Money Only to Accomplish it.

Poughkeepsie, March 29.—The body of John Burroughs, the famous naturalist, who died early this morning on a train coming from Chicago, arrived here at 2:30 this afternoon. The body was taken from the station here to the Pullman berth in which he died while a station crowd stood uncovered. Soon afterward the body was removed to West Park, the Burroughs home, across the Hudson Mr. Burroughs had been for six weeks in California, suffering from chest, heart and kidney troubles. He was eager to get home for his eighty-fourth birthday, next Sunday, and Dr. Clara Barrus, his physician, thought he seemed sufficiently recovered to make the trip.

He seemed in good spirits when the train left Chicago yesterday. Through the night he slept intermittently. Awakening early this morning, while the train was passing through Ohio, he asked: "How far are we from home?" Before reply could be made he sank back in his berth dead.

Besides his physician he was accompanied on the trip by his granddaughter, Miss Ursula Burroughs, and by the Misses Eleanor and Harriet Burroughs.

THE NAVY STEAM ROLLER

The Navy Department will make no compromise with the "sincere fools" who are talking disarmament. When the Colorado, our newest 22,600 ton dreadnaught slid into the water recently at Camden, Assistant Secretary Theodore Roosevelt voiced his view of disarmament advocates. "Some of these people are perfectly sincere pacifists," he said, "but some of them are perfectly sincere fools; and incidentally, they are the same thing." Next day President Harding told a delegation of Philadelphia Quakers that the United States could not make naval reductions without the cooperation of other powers.

There are no words without deeds. After a session of the council of the Secretary of the Navy on March 16, Secretary Denby announced that the department would ask Congress to adopt the naval appropriation bill as amended by the Senate Committee and killed by Senators Borah and King. What this means the country does not realize. The Senate bill adds $100,000,000 to the $396,000,000 carried by the House bill. It provides for 120,000 men instead of 100,000. It carries $96,000,000 for the continuation of the 1916 program and adds to it two airplane carriers at a cost of $26,000,000 each. It makes the initial appropriations for great naval developments in the Pacific, notably a new naval base at Alameda, which will cost $100,000,000 by the time it is done.

Senator King declares that it will require a billion to complete the 1916 program and another half billion for the necessary yards and docks. His estimate for annual maintenance is at least $500,000,000.

There is a sharp intimation that the navy is to be concentrated in the Pacific. Not only does this mean further expense, it is a definite threat to Japan. Naval officers are talking in their usual mischievous way of war with that country within three years.

The naval policy of the administration is already clear. Nothing but Congress stands between the people and the proposed orgy of spending which will surely culminate in war. Imperialistic business drives the navy steam roller steadily forward.

Only a great popular movement can hurl the driver from his seat and reverse the machine. There are signs of such a movement.

ST. JOHN'S REFORMED CHURCH

Rev. J. Albert, Pastor.

Sunday School 10 A. M. The place where a good many people seem proud to be found these beautiful Sunday mornings. Divine worship 11 A. M. At 7:30 P. M. a Kingdom Service at which time Mr. Heckerman will take you on a trip to China 100 beautiful slides. You will be welcome.

Bedford Methodist Episcopal Church

Sunday School at 9:45. Sermon at 11. Juniors League at 2. Epworth League at 6:30 and sermon at 7:30. Supt. J. H. Hardman reports a large increase in attendance at Sunday School. You are invited to the Sunday School as well as to the church services.

John V. Royer,

Minister.

WEEK FOR CLEANING UP

The State Department of Health has asked the officers and residents of every city, borough and township of Pennsylvania to devote a week beginning April 11 to the interest of better citizenship and better health by removing and properly disposing of the accumulated waste of the winter by cleaning the houses, schools, public buildings, stores, places of amusement, waiting rooms and other places of habitation and resort; by eliminating breeding places of flies; and by making provision for sanitary disposal of kitchen waste, garbage and sewage.

This week is to be known as The Week That Makes The Summer Safe.

If your wife annoys you by her constant piano playing and incessant talk, don't complain because possibly you hold her hands so she couldn't play and kept her lips so busy she couldn't talk before you married her, so says Mrs. Barkman.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

In response to daily requests for information on the use of fertilizers, the Farm Bureau makes the following statement and recommendations for the readers of the Bedford Gazette:

The soils of Bedford County are deficient in lime, phosphates, nitrogen and available potash in the order named. The question that naturally arises is what can be done to remedy this situation by applications of fertilizer or crop system. To build up soil fertility cheaply and realize a profit each year it is necessary first to use lime in quantities sufficient to correct soil acidity. On limestone soils this may mean the application of one-half to one ton per acre and on all other soils it may require as much as one or two tons per acre. The result will be increased yields of grain together with successful stands of clover or alfalfa.

Clover or alfalfa builds up the nitrogen content of the soil by means of nitrogen gathering bacteria on their roots. The use of lime then is necessary as a cheap source of nitrogen which comes via of these nitrogen gathering bacteria on the roots of such legumes. A discussion of the use of lime must always come in connection with the source of cheap nitrogen. The two are inseparable.

Phosphates are not to be found except by direct application of a phosphatic fertilizer as it comes from the commercial fertilizer manufacturer. Our soils are deficient in this much-needed element and the use of phosphate always gives increased yields.

We have so far shown the necessity of lime as a means of obtaining nitrogen through legumes and for the maximum yield of grain crops direct. Phosphate must be bought. Available potash then alone remains a problem. Here the word available was used intentionally because most soils of Bedford County are liberally supplied with potash but in such form as to be insoluble and thus unavailable to the plant.

To change this unavailable potash to available potash it is necessary to apply barnyard manure or plow down other organic matter to decay in the soil. The organic acids resulting from the decay of organic matter will perform necessary change.

To sum this up, use lime to correct soil acidity and gradually build up the nitrogen contents of the soil. This is only accomplished where legumes are grown where lime has been used. Use acid phosphate and return to the soil all straw, hay and other feeds in the form of barnyard manure.

It may not be advisable to rely upon the purchase of lime and acid phosphate alone where soils are poor and quick returns are desirable. Mixed fertilizers are often necessary for a few years until the above system of soil improvement has had opportunity to work. In such cases grain crops will respond to a 3-12-3 mixture or other mixtures showing small amounts of nitrogen and potash in addition to phosphate.

The application of mixed goods can be expected to give best results only in the absence of manure or a good sod.

Where heavy coating of manure is applied once in the rotation used, acid phosphate alone will show the greatest returns.

PLEASING EASTER SERVICES AT BEDFORD M. E. CHURCH

The Easter services at the Bedford Methodist Episcopal Church last Sunday were very pleasing as well as impressive. Each department of the Sunday School had part in the entertainment. The Beginners Department had the children to six years of age and was in charge of Misses Anna Knight and Sallie Hawkins; the Primary Department exercises were in charge of Miss Emma Shuck and Mrs. Charles W. Allen. The musical features of the programme were a solo by Mr. James S. Davidson, a duet by Mrs. C. C. Lee and Miss Bess Corle, and anthems by the Junior choir and the church choir. The solo part in the Junior choir them was sung by Miss Virginia Pate, and in the church choir anthems by Miss Bess Corle and Mr. James S. Davidson. All the music was under the direction of Miss L. D. Shuck, the organist. A large and appreciative audience was present.

The plain fact is that the United States Government is spending four times as much money as it did before the war and is still spreading itself out. The greater part of this increase has no relation to the interest on the public debt and a very large percentage is due directly to the cost of a swollen military establishment.

In seeking a system of taxation that will not "stop the wheels of enterprise and industry," Senator Penrose, if he expects to succeed, must devote part of his attention to the excessive expenditures of the Government, for Congress industry, and the evil cannot be wholly removed by substituting one set of taxes for another set of taxes. Some taxes are worse than other taxes, but no people was ever made happy and prosperous by taxation and none ever will be.

Senator Penrose's intention seems to be wholly benevolent, but he will never make them effective unless he couples a policy of stern retrenchment with a policy of tax revision.

N. Y. World.

BASE-BALL SEASON OPENS TOMORROW

First Game with Roaring Springs.

Saturday afternoon, April 2nd, Bedford High will play the first base-ball game of the season with Roaring Springs, who boasts of a fine ball team. The game will be played on Bedford's diamond, North side Park, and is called for 2:30.

Of late years very little prominence has been given to Baseball but this year under the tutelage of Coach Snyder the sport has taken new life and is raising quite a bit of dust on the ball grounds.

Gardeners say that it takes three centuries to make good sod and although Bedford has not been playing the game of baseball that long, the boys say that they may look as green as grass, Roaring Springs is no lawn-mower.

The game will be spirited; that is guaranteed by the Coach. Through his experience in football he has learned what to do to put some speed into the team. He has been lining them up and giving every member of the team the baseball Jazz tonic of a tablespoonful of best creek sand mixed with Full o'Pep Bran Mash. Just before the game he will line them up and administer a slap on the cheek a piece. It is sure to make it lively.

The admission will be 25 cents. Aren't you curious to see how the Roar will be extracted from the Roaring Springs? It will be a neat job and well done. Their much talked of Roar will be like the elephant that jumped too high, and it won't come back until sometime after Independence Day. All red-blooded folks are curious, and even if you are not, come anyway so people won't know the difference. Come on. Come see some real boys play a real game under a real coach, and win a real victory. Do not forget to wear your ticket to the game or you may have to buy another one.

DEEDS RECORDED

Rachael Corle to C. Clinton Corle, 1 acre, 38 perches in Napier $100.

Curtis Delmer Lang to Arthur Mellott, 2 lots in Hopewell Boro $125.

Arthur Mellott to Mary E. Mellott, two lots in Hopewell Boro. $2300.

George S. Whyson to Calvin Ickes, 1 acre in Union, $30.

Sarah M. Ickes to John S. Crist, 8 acres 17 perches in Union $500.

O. S. Kagarise to Ross M. Clapper, lot in South Woodbury, $1000.

Thomas Growden to William D. Boor, two lots in Cumberland Valley, $370.50.

George W. Smith to John William 46 acres in Bedford township $100.

Calvin C. Imler to Henry Imler, 80 acres in Bedford township $2100.

H. S. Furst to W. C. Weaver lot in Saxton $143.50.

Russell E. Winegardner to Rebecca E. Davis 1 acre 26 perches in East St. Clair $1350.

Harvey S. Diehl to Lester Karns, lot in Bedford, $3900.

Benj. P. Kensing to Michael B. Brennenman, lots in Liberty, $950.

C. R. Thompson to Geo. McGregor, tract in East St. Clair, $1200.

C. P. Deremer to John C. Nee, 108 acres, 115 acres two tracts in Cumberland Valley, $4500.

George W. Lodge to Isaac L. Ritchey, lot in Everett, $5000.

Sarah A. Graziar to H. A. Long, lot in New Paris, $1100.

Harry A. Long to Charles M. Davis, lot in New Paris, $1800.

James C. Charleston to Adaline Carpenter lot in Bedford $100.

Aledine Carpenter to Harry Carpenter, lot in Bedford $2000.

Blair E. Knitsely to Earnest Bellas, 67 acres, 50 perches in West St. Clair, $2800.

Hulda A. Whitcomb to M. E. McNeal, 94 acres, 27 perches and 24 acres two tracts in East St. Clair, $3400.

Irvin Nunemaker to Grant Suter 88 acres, 64 perches in Napier $3000.

Louise S. Parish to Ed S. James, lot in Bedford, $1400.

John Bennett to Joseph Owen Shipley 150 acres in Mann, $800.

S. R. Kagarise to Irene L. Kagarise 27 acres, 157 perches in South Woodbury, $1800.

Maggie D. Staller to Emma Blackburn 10 acres, 150 perches and 1 acre 50 perches, two tracts in Napier, $900.

Emma Blackburn to William Stultz same tract $1100.

Herbert B. Suter to W. A. Stultz, 71 acres in Napier, $5000.

The plain fact is that the United States Government is spending four times as much money as it did before the war and is still spreading itself out. The greater part of this increase has no relation to the interest on the public debt and a very large percentage is due directly to the cost of a swollen military establishment.

In seeking a system of taxation that will not "stop the wheels of enterprise and industry," Senator Penrose, if he expects to succeed, must devote part of his attention to the excessive expenditures of the Government, for Congress industry, and the evil cannot be wholly removed by substituting one set of taxes for another set of taxes. Some taxes are worse than other taxes, but no people was ever made happy and prosperous by taxation and none ever will be.

Senator Penrose's intention seems to be wholly benevolent, but he will never make them effective unless he couples a policy of stern retrenchment with a policy of tax revision.

N. Y. World.

BODY OF CARDINAL TO BE LAID TO REST

Burial Will be in Crypt at Cathedral With Proceeding Archbishops.

POPE SENDS A MESSAGE

Thousands Take Last Gaze At Body of Noted Prelate. Funeral Today.

Baltimore, March 31.—The mighty and the lowly united in sorrow yesterday evening, trod softly past the bier of James Cardinal Gibbons to gaze for the last time on the face of a beloved prelate.

This morning with all pomp and ceremony and the singing of a Gregorian chant never before heard outside the Sistine Chapel in Rome the church will bury her dead. The Apostolic Delegate at Washington, two fellow members in the college of Bishops, Archbishops and Abbots, Cardinals, Archbishops, Grand secular clergy and clergy belonging to the orders—all will be massed in the Cathedral of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary for the final mass.

There too will be diplomatic representatives of the Catholic countries of the world, while officials of nation, state and city will attend the service, mourning a fellow-citizen.

The public ceremony ended, the body of the Cardinal later in the day will be carried to the Cathedral Crypt, unopened since the burial of Archbishop Spalding in 1872. There in marked contrast to the imposing spectacle of the mass, the body will be laid to rest in the white tomb, with the simplest of ceremonies and in the presence of only closest relatives and dearest friends.

Cardinal Gibbons, excellent priests, learned master, vigilant pastor, was also an exemplary citizen and by the example of preaching of Christ's "truths in private as well as in public" he contributed efficaciously to the progress of his great country. His memory therefore, is cherished with every Catholic citizen of the United States of America.

FARM LABOR DAY

Commissioner Clifford B. Connolly, Department of Labor and Industry, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pa., gave out today the following interview concerning farm labor and farm labor day in the district of the State Employment Office, Altoona, Pa., which comprises Cambria, Blair, Huntingdon, Clearfield, Jefferson, Center, Bedford and Fulton Counties.

"On account of the general shortage of farm laborers a special effort or drive is being made in each office of the State Bureau of Employment, Department of Labor and Industry, to meet this need of the farmers throughout the State.

"One day every week is set aside for farm labor service, the day most convenient for farmers and farm laborers to come to the State Employment Office and meet there.

"In the Altoona district this special farm labor day is Saturday of each week. At the State Employment Office, Chamber of Commerce, Altoona, Pa., Walter S. Greevy, Superintendent, every effort is made to serve the farmers upon that day especially. Of course, they can come there any day in the week except Sunday, but on Saturday they are most likely to find there the farm laborers whom they can interview, inspect and hire.

"The same conditions apply to farm laborers. They are welcome at the office any day, but on Saturday they

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D.
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago
(© 1921 Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR APRIL 3
THE IDEAL CHRISTIAN.

LESSON TEXT—Rom. 12:2, 9-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—As ye would that men should do unto you, do ye also to them likewise.—Luke 6:31.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 5:1-18; Phil. 4:8, 9; Col. 3:12-15; 1 Pet. 3:8-17.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Making Others Happy.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Living Happily With Others.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Marks of a True Christian.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian's Standard of Character.

I. In His Relation to God (vv. 1, 2).
He is dedicated to God. He conscientiously presents his entire being to God.
1. The basis of this dedication (v. 1). "The mercies of God." The grand reason for the dedication of ourselves to God is because we are recipients of the mercies of God.
2. The nature of the dedication (v. 1).
(1) An act of the free will. Those who voluntarily present themselves to God, He consecrates to His Service.
(2) It embraces the whole man (v. 1). By "bodies" is meant the entire personality—body, soul and spirit (1 Thess. 5:23). The inner life expresses itself through the body. (3) It is a living sacrifice (v. 1). In the Old Testament the victim was slain before being placed upon the altar, but in our case God wants our bodies as living instruments of service. (4) It is for rational service (v. 1). The logical outcome of our union with Christ is an intelligent service for Him.
3. The obligation of the one dedicated to the Lord (v. 2). It is non-conformity to this world. The one who has handed himself over to the Lord will not be fashioned by this evil, devil-governed age (1 John 5:19).
II. In His Relation to His Fellow Christians (vv. 9-13).
1. Love without hypocrisy (v. 9). We should not merely pretend to love people while hating them in our hearts.
2. Abhor the evil and cleave to the good (v. 9). God's children must be like him. God hates wickedness of all sorts, so His children will have the same attitude towards sin that He has.
3. Be kindly affectioned one to another (v. 10). This is to be a brotherly love, namely, that which passes between those who are of one blood—members of the same family.
4. In honor preferring one another (v. 10). This is most difficult. It is natural to claim the best places for ourselves. Christ pleased not Himself.

5. Be not slothful in business (v. 11). This hardly refers to secular affairs, but rather to the church life which was to be characterized by zeal—energy and warmth, being regarded as service to the Lord.
6. Rejoicing in hope (v. 12). Affliction shall surely come to the Christian. In all trials the Christian should be filled with hope of future glory.
7. Patient in Tribulation (v. 12). This blessed hope will make possible a life of patience.
8. Continuing in prayer (v. 12). Only by constant and persistent prayer shall we be able to live above our circumstances and fix our hope upon Him whose coming shall bring deliverance from all our trials and transform us into His glorious likeness.
9. Distributing to the necessity of saints—given to hospitality (v. 13). It is obligatory to Christians to divide their wages with fellow Christians who are destitute (Eph. 4:28).
III. In His Relation to Unbelievers (vv. 14-21).
1. Do good for evil (v. 14). We are to bless those who persecute us. The natural man pays back in the same coin, but the renewed man responds to kindness and good deeds.
2. Be sympathetic (v. 15). We should rejoice with those who rejoice and weep with those who weep. Christ entered into the joys of the wedding at Cana, and wept with Mary and Martha.
3. Find points of agreement (v. 16). We should seek for points of agreement in all things, instead of being vain in our own conceits.
4. Live honestly before all men (v. 17). We should so live that our characters may attract others to Christ.
5. Live in peace (v. 18). We should exhaust every means to bring about reconciliation. If the other party will not yield, we should seek to that "is not our fault."
6. Be not vindictive (vv. 19-21). Instead of rendering eye for eye and tooth for tooth, we should heap coals of fire upon our enemies by deeds of kindness.

Mothers Lead the Way.
Children are what the mothers are; no fondest father's fondest care can so fashion the infant's heart, or so shape the life—Landon.

They That Bow Heads.
They that bow their heads before God may hold them erect before the world.—A. S. Wiltshire.

Mothers.
The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

Meyer Jonasson & Co.

1226 Eleventh Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

New Spring Jersey Suits

of "Jonasson" Everwear Wool Jersey
at 22.50

"Jonasson" Everwear Jersey Suits are made from All-wool Jersey. They will not wrinkle, crush or fade—they will not pull, stretch or sag. The ideal suit for general utility wear. One style illustrated.

Women's and Misses' High-grade Tailored Suits

Specially Priced at 59.50

A number of finely tailored "Jonasson" Suits have been specially priced for tomorrow only. Made from Poiret Twill, Tricotine and Twill Cord.

New Sports' Coats

for Women & Misses

Specially Priced at

26.85

New Spring Polo Coats of good quality Polo Cloth, with large patch pockets and belts, one style as illustrated. These Coats are lined with silk and the tailoring is unusually good. The colors include Natural Tan and Platinum Gray. All sizes for Women and Misses 16 to 44.

Canton Crepe Dresses

Specially Priced at

59.75

Beautiful New Canton Crepe Dresses, richly beaded—Swiss Taffeta Dresses, Beaded Georgette Dresses and Tailored Tricotine Dresses, new and attractive styles. Colors—Navy, Black, Pearl Gray, Rust and Brown.

Special!

Women's and Misses' Spring Dresses Specially Priced at 39.75

Canton Crepes, Taffeta, Crepe de Chine, Tricotine, etc.—in favored colorings.

Girls' New Taffeta Dresses

Exceptional Values

13.95 up to 34.50

New Taffeta Dresses, with ruffled skirt and hand embroidery. Navy or Brown.

Girls' Regulation Dresses

Specially Priced at 4.95

Made from Cadet Blue Peggy Cloth—emblem and braid trimmed. Sizes 7 to 16.

Girls' Gingham Dresses

Smart models, made of high grade quality Gingham. Special 1.95 Price

ALTOONA BOOSTER NEWS

100,000 Readers | "TO PROMOTE EDUCATIONAL PUBLICITY." | Covers Five Counties

EVERY WEDNESDAY IS ALTOONA'S SUBURBAN DAY

MAIL ORDER HOUSES CAN'T KEEP PACE IN CATALOGS WITH FALLING MARKET

An interesting news item announces the fact that mail order houses are losing business right and left because their catalogs must be printed six months in advance. Orders for firms like this must be placed two or three months ahead at distant places, making it impossible for them to give the customer the benefit of lower quotations when they occur.
Your home merchant, in close touch with the big eastern markets, can take advantage of every fluctuation in merchandise prices and you benefit when he benefits.
Give your home merchant a chance. He supports OUR schools. He supports OUR churches. He supports OUR enterprises. He is your neighbor.

LUCK!

Luck means the trains that you have never missed and the opportunities you have never let escape. Speculation is the shot you take at a thing that is probably not there.
Providence is a city. It is also an illusion with most men who do not think ahead. Big men think ahead.
Thrift means living on $5 a day when you earn ten. Success hinges a lot on your initiative—the plans you put into practice for the future mean more to you than the things you do today.
Make Wednesday Altoona Day and stick to it.

LOOK FOR YOUR NAME IN THIS COLUMN

Miss Mary Kennedy, of Centre Hall is visiting Mrs. Ed Bartholomew in Altoona.
Mrs. Alvin W. Evans of Ebensburg is recovering from a serious operation recently performed.
Joseph McGough of Dy-sart was a Patton visitor last week.
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark of Altoona were visitors at the Whitman home in Hastings last week.
Mrs. A. Lehman, daughter Esther and son Billy and Miss Mary Lehman spent last Suburban Day in Altoona.

PROBLEM IN MENTAL ARITHMETIC

If it takes a woodpecker with a gum ball three months and thirteen days to peck a hole through a log large enough to make two million axe handles at 20 cents each, how long will it take a cross-eyed grasshopper with a co-k leg to kick all the seeds out of a dill pickle weighing two hundredweight?

IMPORTANT NOTICE

This Thursday evening the members of the Booster Association will hold their annual monthly and yearly meeting combined. The lady friends will also be in attendance and a large crowd is expected.
Dr. Herbert Hess of the University of Pennsylvania will speak.
Don't miss it.

LET'S GO!

The greatest slogan that came out of the World War was—"Let's go!" The biggest business thought that we can bring to bear at the moment, to advance all our interests, is this thought—"Let's go!"
We have retreated far enough.
When Napoleon was about to order a retreat, during the battle of Marengo, he called his aid Dessaix to his side and asked him what he thought best to do, and Dessaix replied "The battle is completely lost. But it's only two o'clock, and we shall yet have time today to win another." Then the famous French Cavalry charge was made and the victory won.
Washington lost more battles than he won, but he won the last battle.
For four years the World War went against the Allies. They were always assailed, almost always retreating, but not once was there a suggestion of defeat. Finally the word came, "Let's go!" and they went.

About two months ago, when the business situation was dark and defeat seemed to stare so many in the face, we watched, with unusual interest, the methods of a certain manufacturer. Did he stand in the hotel lobby in some sympathy session? Did he throw a fit and cry quits? Did he get sit-tight-et-us from cancel-et-us? Did tucker-et-us give him cold feet?

All about him stood manufacturers in his own line wailing and railing. Their pep was petrified, their courage ossified and their vision mesmerized. They had the flu of fear and the fever that we know brings on a chill.
"What did our friend do?" He called to him and the ablest designers he could command, filled several trunks with irresistible merchandise and started out on an eight weeks' trip. He visited, personally, his customers, and he brought back a tremendous business, right while his friends in trade were talking troubles.
Will someone manufacture and distribute one hundred million buttons with this slogan—"Let's go!"
Will somebody appoint himself, in his own community, Lord High Executioner and decapitate every man that talks hard times?
It is my candid belief that the newspapers have been led to spread the misanthropic, morose, mental materialism that is all that is left of the old "Let's go!"

GREETINGS:

Here's a little newspaper that is going to appear regularly and will always contain something of interest to everyone.
Friends of Altoona and Altoona's Booster Stores will welcome each issue and anticipate it with pleasure.
This little publication has a paid circulation of 75,000. Think of it—with only two readers to a paper, 150,000 people peruse its columns every time it appears.
Are you one of this army? Watch for it in this paper. AND READ IT.

NEW MEMBERS.

Altoona Booster Association
W. F. Sellers & Co., Jewel-ers, 1403 11th Ave., Altoona Trust Company, 12th Ave. and 12th St., I. Lang, Cloaks and Fur, 1425 11th Ave., Commercial Printing Co., 912 11th Ave., City Furniture Co., 1501 11th Ave.

merchandise and started out on an eight weeks' trip. He visited, personally, his customers, and he brought back a tremendous business, right while his friends in trade were talking troubles.
Will someone manufacture and distribute one hundred million buttons with this slogan—"Let's go!"
Will somebody appoint himself, in his own community, Lord High Executioner and decapitate every man that talks hard times?
It is my candid belief that the newspapers have been led to spread the misanthropic, morose, mental materialism that is all that is left of the old "Let's go!"

MANN'S CHOICE ROUTE ONE

Plowing and making garden is the order of the day.

Mrs. Earl Snively, Misses Ida and Edna Diehl and Sara Dull and Mr. Roy Dull spent last Wednesday evening at the Keller home.

Jacob Diehl is ill with appendicitis at the home of his brother L. W. Diehl.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kelley were callers at the home of the formers parents Mr. and Mrs. James Kelley on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Snively spent over Sunday at the home of the latter's sister Mr. and Mrs. James Robb.

Mr. and Mrs. James Diehl and sons Glenn and Blain were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dull.

Quite a number of people from this community attended the sale of C. M. Corley of near New Baltimore.

An interesting program was rendered at the Diehl School house Friday evening, March 18, by the teacher Mrs. Earl Snively and part of her pupils and several friends. A large audience was present. Following is the program:

"Hen and Sue" by Ida Diehl, Play, "Beat It," Recitation "Which loved Mother best" by Sara Dull, Song, "Oh Come, Come Away," Play "A Narrow Escape," Recitation, "Two Babies" by Glenn Diehl, Play, "Aunt Jane Visits School," Reading "The Lips that Touch Liquor shall never touch mine" by Ida Diehl, Song, "The School House on the Hill," Play, "In a Doctors Office," Recitation, "Pollys Picture" by Evelyn Corley, Play, "Dot Entertains," Song, "Jesus bids us Shine" by Ida and Edna Diehl, Sara Dull and Evelyn Corley, Play, "Wooing Jane," Reading "Caleb's Courtship" by Mrs. George Kelley, Recitation, "Popping Corn" by Edna Diehl, Play, "The Traveling Photographer," Recitation "Lucy" by Edward Shippy, Song, "Smile".

ROUND KNOR

Well, we guess Spring has come at last as the Wild Geese went over last week and the Butterflies have been flying around.

Chester Dixon buried his son Cleveland last week. He was about 4 years old.

Harry Border who has been with Diphtheria croup is reported some better at this writing.

Edna Clark who has been suffering with Tonsillitis is some better at this writing. Also her baby who has been on the sick list is some better.

Mrs. Carlos ONeal was in Bedford last week getting some Dentistry work done.

Albert S. Figard and wife and son, Roy L. Figard and wife and son John autoed to McConnellsburg on Monday making their trip in their new Ford car.

Reverend Speace and Brandy Chisholm visited at the home of Wade H. Figard on Monday last.

Ruben Thomas had a fine cow to die for him a couple of weeks ago.

Harvey Clark bought him self a fine cow the other week. She is full Holstein.

Raymond Figard has bought a new riding plow and he is making good use of it. It is a David Bradley make and a good one and does fine work.

Calvin Foster who has been in Pittsburgh for the past month or so has returned back home again for a short vacation. His friends were all glad to see him again and to see him looking so good.

Clarence Figard and David his brother who has been on the sick list suffering with Congestion of the Lungs is able to be around again.

Cora Meek who has a Bealed Jaw has gotten some better again. She had to have Dr. Cornelious lance it.

The Stork visited at the home of William Ritchey and left there a big boy. William is wearing some smile.

NEW PARIS

The mansion farm of H. Irvin Taylor will be managed the coming year by his son, Ross, who moved to the same this week.

Herman Miller who has been operating the A. D. Ling farm for several years has moved to Alum Bank. The farm will be tilled by Wesley C. Wolfe.

W. I. Davis and wife of Bellwood and Ray Mock and wife of Altoona were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crissman during the past week.

Mr. B. F. Crow, and son of Point Marion are visiting at the home of Mrs. Crow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Richards.

The community of New Paris will unite at the United Brethern church at 10:45 on Easter morning to render an Easter Cantata entitled "Redemption's Song." All are invited to attend.

Dr. H. I. Shoenthal who underwent an operation at the Cumberland hospital for an infection received from a very small scratch on the fore finger of his right hand by an instrument while operating on a gangrenous toe of a lady several weeks since, returned home a few days ago and thinks that in a few months he will have the normal of his hand and arm which at one time during his absence it was thought would have to be amputated. He was accompanied during his six weeks absence by his wife. His present condition will only admit him doing office work.

FARMERS TAKE NOTICE

Look after repairs early. Repairs for most all kinds of machines also a line of plow repairs and castings for the general run of plows used in this vicinity.

International Repairs a Specialty Farm Machinery Sold. International

Manure Spreader with auto front axil roller bearings, Binders, Mowers, Hay Rakes, Combination Side Rakes and Tedder, Hay Loaders, Corn Planter, Corn Plows, Hoosier Drills, a full line of I. H. C. machines.

AMERICAN SEEDING MACHINE LINE of Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Drills and Lime Sowers.

John Deere

Hay Tools, Corn Planters, Hay Carriers, Tracks and Forks, Harrows, Plows, Potato Diggers, Weber Wagons, Culti Packers, Perfection Milkens, in fact anything in the machine line that is used on the farm. Will move my office and ware room in alley opposite Fisher House stable April 1st.

E. F. ENGLAND
BEDFORD, PA.

1/4 Of A Cent Will Save Me From White Diarrhoea!

Edgar Briggs, the well-known breeder of high-class Single-Comb White Leghorns, and author of the book, "Poultry Keeping Solved," of Pleasant Valley, N. Y., says: "Just give the chicks Avon Poultry Tablets in drinking water the first five days when put out, then for a week, starting the 21st day. That will bring them through the danger period."

Protect your flock and your poultry profits from danger of disease epidemics.

Just Give Me

AVON TABLETS

POULTRY TABLETS

Costs only 1/4 of a cent to treat a chick. And it costs only 2 cents to treat any adult chicken, turkey, duck, goose or pheasant. These tablets prevent Cholera and Blackhead from attacking your flocks, and cure if they are now afflicted. They stimulate young chicks' growth, give the strength to resist disease attacks, aid poultry to get the most good out of the food. You should get a supply at once.

We sell them and guarantee them. If they fail to satisfy, we will refund your money

JNO. R. DULL, DRUGGIST,
Bedford, Pa.

USE SLOAN'S TO WARD OFF PAIN

You can just tell by its healthy, stimulating odor, that it is going to do you good

"If I only had some Sloan's Liniment!" How often you've said that! And then when the rheumatic twinge subsided—after hours of suffering—you forgot it! Don't do it again—get a bottle today and keep it handy for possible use tonight! A sudden attack may come on—sciatica, lumbago, sore muscles, backache, stiff joints, neuralgia, the pains and aches resulting from exposure. You'll soon find warmth and relief in Sloan's, the liniment that penetrates without rubbing. Clean, economical. Three sizes—35c, 70c, $1.40

Sloan's
Liniment (Pain's enemy)

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

ESTATE OF Henry Foych late of South Woodbury township, Bedford County, Pa., Deceased.

Letters administration on the above estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make prompt payment and those having claims to present the same without delay to

Jerome D. Foych,
New Enterprise, Pa.
Arthur K. Bechtel,
Salemville, Pa.
Administrators.

Simon H. Sell,
Attorney.
Mar. 11 to Apr. 15.

After all others fail consult
OLD DR. THEEL
1719 Spring Garden Street
Philadelphia. The Oldest and Known as the Greatest Specialist from Coast to Coast. WHOSE COMBINATION TREATMENT NEVER FAILS TO RESTORE HEALTH AND HAPPINESS. GIVES IMMEDIATE RELIEF FROM ANY AFFLICTION. NO MATTER WHAT CAUSE OR ORIGIN. IF DUE TO INFECTION OR INHERITED. SEND for Book it will surely open your eyes, put you wise. Office hours, 10 to 4, evening 6 to 9. Sun. 10 to 1.

EXECUTORS' NOTICE

ESTATE OF John L. McLaughlin, late of Bedford Borough, Bedford County, Pa., Deceased.

Letters testamentary on the above estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make prompt payment and those having claims to present the same without delay to

Margaret M. McLaughlin,
George Points
Executors.
Bedford, Pa.
Mar. 4 to Apr. 8.

EXECUTORS' NOTICE

Estate of John A. Watkins, late of Pleasantville Borough, Bedford County, Pa., Deceased.

Letters testamentary having been granted to the undersigned executors named in the last will and testament of John A. Watkins late of Pleasantville Borough, Bedford County, Pa. deceased. All persons having claims or demands against the estate of the said decedent are hereby notified to present the same without delay for payment, and all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make prompt payment of the same.

Harry C. Watkins,
Blair Knisely,
Executors.
Frank E. Colvin,
Attorney.
Mar. 25 April 29.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

ESTATE OF Lizie Mellon, late of Bedford Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

Letters of administration on the above estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make prompt payment, and those having claims to present the same without delay to

William A. Weisel,
Administrator.
Bedford, Pa.

Simon H. Sell,
Attorney.
Mar. 25 April 29.

ACCOUNTS IN COMMON PLEAS

The following account has been filed in the Prothonotary's Office of Bedford County and will be presented to the Court for confirmation and allowance on Monday 18th day of April next.

The Third Account of Lucinda Hartman, committee for Mary Shank and Anna Shank of South Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, Lunatics.
Henry J. Pleacher,
Prothonotary.
Mar. 25 April 1

Brought Up to Date.
Barnum may have been right in his century, but now aren't two born every minute.—From Life.

A GREAT HELP

"I SUPPOSE you do your own washing, ma'am?" inquired the seedy stranger.

"Yes, I do, although I don't see that it's any of your business," replied Mrs. Curfew, with some warmth.

"I suppose you'll be telling me that you're collecting statistics for a government bureau, or maybe for the state board of health. It seems that the authorities are greatly interested in family matters that don't concern them nowadays, and every day or two somebody comes along asking impertinent questions as to how many children I have, and my maiden name before I was married, and whether there's insanity in the family."

"I'm sick and tired of answering such questions. If my old friends want to dig into my family history, I'll give them all the information they want, although I may consider their confidences in bad taste, but when a perfect stranger comes along and asks me if I do my own washing, I feel that the line must be drawn somewhere. Every Jack in office asks questions. It used to be that the assessor would come to the door politely, and inquire how many dogs we kept, and take our estimate of the value of our property without looking as though he knew we ought to be prosecuted for perjury. But now he must know the color of your grandfather's side whiskers, and if you tell him that you keep no dogs he goes out and looks under the house, and in the barn, and when he comes back he warns you that the penalties for giving false information are severe."

"Mr. Curfew says that the next time the assessor comes, he is going to throw him over the back fence and kick him down the alley for a distance of seven blocks, and I hope he'll keep his word."

"I didn't mean to offend you," said the stranger. "I'm introducing a washing powder that saves half the labor, and dispenses with soap altogether. With this marvelous powder a woman can do the week's washing and have her clothes hung on the line, inside of two hours."

"Well, mister, you take a package of your marvelous powder down to the creek, and give yourself a good scrubbing, for you look as though you had been fishing out of somebody's dustbin. Your whiskers are full of sawdust, and your face is covered with grime. If you were introducing bituminous coal, there might be some excuse for your appearance, but a man who is selling washing powder ought to be like the driven snow, or nobody will have confidence in him."

"And I wouldn't have anything to do with your washing powder if you offered to bring me a wagonload for twenty cents. I make my own soap of lye and grease, and although it isn't indorsed by the crowned heads of Europe, or by prelates or vice presidents, it's the best soap ever made, and I know the ingredients are wholesome, even if they don't comprise barks and buds and healing herbs."

"When I use my own soap, I know the things I wash won't be any the worse for it, but the washing powders sold by agents are made of dynamite and lunar caustic, and a garment once washed with them will never be fit to use again."

"Last spring I was feeling too poorly to make the usual batch of soap, so I bought a package of washing powder from an agent who had his pockets full of testimonials showing that he was a man of high moral character. It happened that week that all of Mr. Curfew's white shirts were in the wash. Mr. Curfew is very particular about his shirts. They must be as white as arctic snow, or the way he raves around the house is a disgrace. Well, I wish you could have seen those shirts after they were washed. They had an old gold color, and have been getting yellower ever since, and Mr. Curfew never sits down but he speaks about it and makes things uncomfortable."

"So you had better toddle along and sell your washing powder to some woman who doesn't know how to make good soap."

World's Supply of Nitrates.

The world's visible supply of nitrates is estimated at 2,102,000 tons.

The Type.

"I heard Mabel said when she married that she had selected the very flower of her admirers. To what particular bloom did she liken him?"

"At first she thought he was the pink of perfection, but when the baby came to claim her attention, he was just a mere poppy."

Neptune's Laundry.

"I would like to see the wash of the sea."

"The best time to do that ought to be when you are crossing the line."

Five Minute Chats on Our Presidents

By JAMES MORGAN

(Copyright, 1920, by James Morgan.)

A FUGITIVE PRESIDENT

1809—James Madison, inaugurated President, aged fifty-seven.
1812—(June 19) War declared.
1814—(Aug. 24-27) In flight from the British. (Dec. 28) treaty of peace.
1817—Madison retired from Presidency.
1826—Rector in University of Virginia.
1829—In constitutional convention.
1836—(June 28) died, aged eighty-five.

BUT for the smiles of his blooming Dolly, Madison's administration would be a desert without an oasis, over whose dreary expanse the weary biographer would wander athirst for human anecdotes. Her bubbling spirits relieved the austerity of Jeffersonian simplicity and won her a popularity that has been equaled, if at all, among the mistresses of the White House, only by Mrs. Cleveland.

Unless Grant must be excepted, Madison is the only president who found the presidency an anticlimax to his career. One of the really great law-givers of the nation, he was without executive force.

With a weak cabinet, this gentle, sweet tempered, peace loving scholar found himself adrift on the turbid sea of the great Napoleonic wars. Perhaps it was no longer possible to keep us out of the war when at last the United States was the only neutral left in the civilized world. But certainly it was no time for a fair-weather sailor.

After 20 years of kicking and cuffing from both sides in the European conflict, bullied by England and lied to by Napoleon, the country was sore all over when the "warhawks" of congress, under the youthful Henry Clay, seized the tiller of the ship of state.

James Madison.

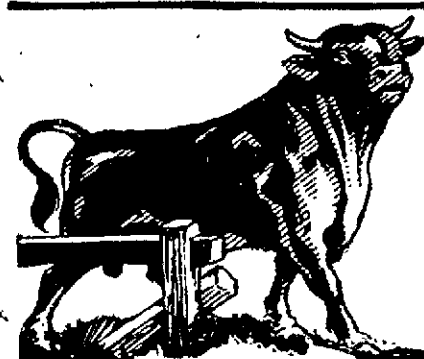

from Madison's irresolute hand and recklessly pointed the vessel straight into the teeth of the storm. The seaboard East was more for peace and at that time the military section was the new West, where the Tennesseans and Kentuckians, Indians and Ohioans were lustily shouting "On to Canada!" Overborne by their rash counsels, Madison consented, as he said, to "throw forward the flag of the country, sure that the people would press onward and defend it."

Without competent civilian military leaders, without financial credit, without war equipment, the people could not press onward, as any history of the dismal war of 1812 will tell you. Even the capital was left undefended, and Madison, "in a little round hat with a big cockade," ran about in helpless bewilderment as the British marched upon Washington.

With the invaders entering at one side of the defenseless town, the president fled at the other. As he turned he saw the flames shooting up behind him, he fled faster and farther. While the British commander was blowing out candles on his dinner table that he might feast in the light of the burning White House, its fugitive master was hiding in a forest but 25 miles away.

After an absence of three days, a heavy-hearted, shattered, houseless president returned to view the charred walls of his official residence and of the capitol. At every turn he was greeted by ugly mutterings of the general disposition to make him the scapegoat for all the national shortcomings in a war that had been thrust upon him. But with victory at New Orleans and the return of peace, the voice of the faultfinder was drowned in the hum of sudden prosperity. And in the closing days of his administration Madison was cheered by many assurances that his countrymen were not forgetful of the 40 years that he had served them in pure devotion.

Like John Adams, he emerged from his retirement to sit in the constitutional convention of his state, where the aged statesman closed his active public life, as he had opened it, with a sentiment of humanity for the slaves.

GENUINE
"BULL" DURHAM

tobacco makes 50
good cigarettes for 10c

MRS. J. M. CRAIG, of Los Angeles, Calif., who says no one can feel more grateful for what Tanlac has done than she does. Has gained twelve pounds and health is better than in years.

"Of all the people who have taken Tanlac I don't believe there's anyone who feels any more grateful to it than I do," said Mrs. J. M. Craig, of 674 1/2 E. 40th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

"I suffered from nervous prostration and was so weak that I could not even sweep the floor and during the day I would have to lie down four or five times. I tried to walk, but found out that half a block was all I could stand before I would give out. Nervous spells came on me often. Finally my husband urged me to try Tanlac and I am indeed glad he did, for it proved to be just what I needed."

"The first two bottles did not seem to help me. I guess it was because I was so bad off, but on the third bottle I could tell I was improving and that gave me more hope than ever of getting well. My improvement from then on was rapid and by the time I had taken five bottles I was better and stronger than I had been in years."

"It enabled me to sleep soundly at night and I have gained twelve pounds. That was several months ago and from then until now I have been in as good health as I ever was in my life. I have told all of my friends and relatives what a wonderful medicine Tanlac is."

Tanlac is sold in Bedford by all leading druggists. —Adv

CHALYBEATE

Mrs. Ellen Mullen and Mrs. Ross Mullen and children of Mann's Choice were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Devore.

Miss Dorothy Arnold has gone to Pittsburgh where she has secured employment.

Mrs. Mayme Diehl has returned to her home after spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Beggle of Friend's Cove.

Mrs. Ross Heiple and children of Altoona and Mrs. Wm. Brideham of Imbertown spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Reighard.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bagley entertained quite a number of Bedford folks last Saturday evening.

Robert Snavely of Detroit, Michigan is visiting his mother, Mrs. S. F. Diehl.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crouse of Altoona spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Luther Mock.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaffer and children of near Cessna were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Devore.

Mrs. Wm. Snell and Miss Annie Amos of Bedford were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arnold.

James Price famous trucker of our village has purchased from S. F. Diehl a new wagon, which he will use in transporting his future crop.

SCHOOL REPORT

The following is the report of the Moore School for the sixth month ending March 16. Mary Snavely, teacher, number in attendance males 11, females 5 total 16, percent of attendance males 90 females 91, total 92.

Pastor roll: Ross Burket, David and Richard Oster, Frances and Paul Reighard, Ada and Catherine Sill and John Davidson.

BEDFORD GAZETTE

VICTOR E. P. BARKMAN
Editor and Publisher
D. W. SNYDER
Associate Editor
and Circulation Manager

Regular subscription price per year 2.00, payable in advance and $2.50 if paid within the year. All communications should be addressed to Gazette Publishing Co., Bedford, Pa.

The Gazette is the leading newspaper of Bedford County and its circulation is far ahead of any of its contemporaries. As an advertising medium it is one of the best in this part of the state.

Card of Thanks $1.00, Resolutions of Respect, $2.00 Obituary Poetry 5c per line. Memorial poetry 5c per line.

Friday, April 1, 1921

Entered at the Post Office at Bedford Pa. as second class matter.

DEMOCRATS SEE TRICK IN TARIFF

Washington, March 29.—Democrats in congress intend to fight the emergency tariff bill and are warning farmers not to be misled by it. Although the odds favor its speedy passage the Democrats believe farmers eventually will turn out to be the worst enemies of this measure and of the permanent tariff to follow chiefly because it will close up foreign markets for American's surplus products and hold this country up for high prices.

"The whole thing is a farce; it is just a sop thrown out to the farmers." Representative Kincheloe said today.

"I come from the greatest tobacco state in the union. The greatest part of the crop in one section is for export. Yet the Republicans are undertaking to fool the tobacco farmer by putting a tariff on tobacco as if there was tobacco imported to any extent."

"In the conference report on this bill they took the tariff off hides so Swift and the other big packers with plants in South America can send hides without tariff to the shoe manufacturers on the finished product."

"They put a tariff on cattle on the hoof when there are no cattle imported except for breeding purposes. They put a tariff on wool and in the same breath they say there is enough wool now to last 10 years. Yet this bill is to last only six months."

Sees Need of Market.

"We have spent millions building up a merchant marine to carry our commerce to every part of the world and develop our foreign trade. With this tariff act we say: 'We want to sell you all our surplus, but for you to sell to us you have got to pay this tariff' which will mean that our ships will be loaded going out, but will come back empty for lack of imports—because other countries cannot sell here on account of this high protective tariff."

"Foreign countries owe us $10,000,000,000. The only way they can pay it is to sell their products over here."

"The American farmer is not looking for a tariff. He does not need any. Not only does he feed this country, but one-half of the world. What he wants is a market for his products which he has on hand now."

"This is simply a sop thrown out to him and it is not going to fool any intelligent farmer. He needs a market instead of a protective tariff."

"This is intended to tie the farmers up so they will have to support the high protective measure these industries are after. When Fordney and Penrose stand up and speak for the farmers it will be time for the rest of us to 'take out' and go to the woods."

The Democratic attitude on the emergency tariff will figure in the caucus to be held Friday or Saturday before congress meets, when minority committee are to be chosen. Representative Claude Kitchin had intended to give up his place as minority leader on the committee until Representative Garner of Texas, who would succeed him, supported the emergency tariff act with 42 other Democrats. Now Mr. Kitchin is planning to hold his place. It would be in the power of the caucus to place anyone desired on the committee.

When Run-Down

Oil City, Pa.—"Several times I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it always has been a great help to me each time. I have taken the 'Prescription' when in a run-down weakened condition, also during expectancy, and I was more than satisfied with the good results obtained by its use. Knowing how much good it has done me I feel safe in recommending it to other women who suffer."

MRS. HOWARD MOTTER, 516½ Plummer St.

Favorite Prescription contains no alcohol or narcotic. All druggists sell it or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package of tablets.

On Friday, April 1st at 2 o'clock at the Health Center will be held a Mothers' Meeting to which all the ladies of the A. M. E. Zion Church are invited.

Doctor Ayres will address the meeting.

Life Isn't All Fun.

Entertaining an idea won't get you very far; you must work it.—Boston Transcript.

RENAISSANCE

By D. A. LEFAVOUR.

(© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

If Queen Louise could have stepped from her heavy frame and vied with Louise Bragdon as she descended the stairs where the portrait of the world-famed sovereign hung, she would have found that her queenly grace and clinging charm had indeed found a rival.

To the girl madly climbing the social ladder while she wrestled with the perplexities of the newly rich, the portrait was the only pleasing, euphonious note from their obscure past.

Soon after Mr. Bragdon had suddenly fallen upon the hold of his incoming "ship," fashion luckily cast her whimsical shadow across their pretty street; one by one those of too modest means had sold their homes; one by one those homes sprang from the magic touch of the master architect into things of beauty, and while the Bragdon home retained its outward contour, its interior kitted-cornered, cutup coziness had given way for airy rooms where overstuffed mahogany and gleaming black walnut abounded.

Louise glowed from tip to toe with satisfaction and winked saucily at her life-long emulation.

Tomorrow night her Prince Charming would enter the chamber of her heart and she must be regally decked to meet him and wideawake to greet him; for somehow she was very sure that Joyce Keating's cousin, who had studied in foreign lands for years, and whose name everyone breathed with something very like awe, would be in truth her ideal.

"Louise, dear, please come here and see if these hang straight."

The girl was startled from her day dreaming by her mother's voice. She dashed into the spacious living room.

"Mother!" she exclaimed aghast, "oh, mother, you are actually draping those curtains standing on that awful stepladder right in front of the window! Oh, suppose, just suppose some of my Lathrop club should see you!"

Mrs. Bragdon wanted to laugh at the tragic intensity. "Do not forget, darling, how very recently I did all the work. Delia has a toothache and of course Maggie is needed at home."

"It isn't our concern that Maggie's little brother was injured," retorted the girl with a petulant stamp.

A thud, a quick cry of anguish swept the poet from the girl's full lips, and kindled her eyes with sympathetic concern. Capably she helped her mother to a couch, anguishing in tender solicitude.

Mrs. Bragdon smiled through her pain. "Oh, Lou, sometimes you are so discouragingly foolish that I'm apt to forget what a genuine heart is hidden in your lovely body. Fetch me the remedies, dear, and I'll soon have this painful swelling in subjection."

Mrs. Bragdon stopped short in her twining of the antiseptic gauze around her anguished ankle.

"Darling, you'll have to take Aunt Prudence to fill her appointment with the oculist."

"Oh, mother, can't Maidie—" she began, but her words fell flat, for she heard her sister's voice mingling with a masculine voice at the door, and knew that a $5 an hour musical instructor could not be juggled with a girlish quail.

A sudden whim sent her to the hidden corner of her closet, hunting a little three seasons back dress. Perhaps her new "set" would not recognize her so readily.

Of course she loved Aunt Prudence. She was a dear, dear old lady, and when at home among the fine old furnishings of her own room which Louise had named Auntie's renaissance boudoir, there, within her habitat, Louise loved to fetch her friends. But on the street—impossible. The old-fashioned cape, bonnet; why, oh, why wouldn't Auntie go to Madam's and be properly gowned?

So she stood with old-fashioned Aunt Prudence, waiting for the street car, feeling frumpy and abused.

A roadster was approaching, she would not look. She might be recognized. So she did not see Joyce lean understandingly back in the deepest corner, or Joyce's companion lean eagerly forward, craning his whole body for a last possible glimpse.

Joyce's party was pronounced a success. Louise didn't think so. In fact she was disappointed. She'd expected to meet a prince full of foreign allure and courtly grace, before whom she'd preen her queenly charms; but Eamer Keating was disappointingly ordinary, and, yes—rather commonplace. However, her outraged vanity was mollified by his eagerness to call the very next evening.

He did call, and asked to see Aunt Prudence in her renaissance boudoir of which Joyce had told him, and he asked to paint her sitting in that room. He also asked Louise to pose in the picture wearing the little muslin dress she had worn the first time he had seen her; the day she waited for a street car.

By the time the picture—which the artist named "Renaissance"—was finished, all the foolishness had been brushed from the heart of the girl, and at the end of the year two struggling young artists were jubilant over scholarships. They didn't know, of course, that those scholarships were bought with the savings from Louise Bragdon's dress allowance, and at the same year's end two other young hearts—a male and a female—were beating as one.

HEALTH SCHOOL

Pennsylvania State Department of Health.

Questions.

1. What should be done for a case of fainting?
2. What is the first aid treatment for sun stroke?
3. When the face of an unconscious person is pale—what position should the head be placed in?

FIRST AID

When Bill Williams, still the town drunkard because he had some money and little strength of character, gave a strangled cry and fell convulsed to the ground, he was allowed to beat his head, bruise his hand by dashing it against the curb, and bite his tongue nearly in two while one worthy citizen ran for a doctor, another for salt, and the rest crowded about him fascinated by his strange contortions.

Bill should have been given First Aid, by gently but firmly holding his head to keep him from bruising it, by putting a twisted handkerchief or other soft substance between his teeth to keep him from biting his tongue, and by restraining the lashing of his legs and arms until the attack passed. He had an epileptic fit—fairly common. While it lasted the doctor could not have done more than keep him from injuring himself by his violent movements. The fit usually passes in a few minutes. There should be no attempt to give anything by the mouth.

The Reverend Doctor Johnson, preaching in his crowded and ill-ventilated church, was interrupted by a commotion in the space behind the pews, due to Miss James, who, after standing for three quarters of an hour, fell to the floor and lay there, pale, unconscious, and apparently not breathing.

Sympathetic by-standers held her in a half sitting position and tore her neck clothing away, while others hurried for water, which they dashed at her face with little reference to quantity or aim.

Miss James had a fainting fit, because she had not enough blood in her head to keep her brain conscious. The pallor of her face and lips showed this. She needed more blood in her head than she was getting; therefore, instead of lifting her up she should have been allowed to lie flat, till one of the many doctors always occupying the front pews of churches, could reach her and direct further proceedings. Flicking her face gently with a handkerchief—wet with cold water—would have been more immediately helpful and less subsequently annoying than the liberal and ill directed pitcher of water with which her upper garments were thoroughly soaked. These fainting fits usually last but a few minutes.

On the following Sunday, Dr. Johnson's sermon was again interrupted; this time by a man sitting in the front pew.

Mr. Bultitude, the over fat, under exercised, red faced man, thick necked, puffed and flabby manufacturer of Bultitude's Balm for Bruised Babies. In the midst of his customary and at times audible doze, rolled first to the cushion of his seat and then to the floor, breathing heavily and noisily, and with his ordinarily red face becoming dusky purple. It was clear that there was too much blood in his head. Therefore, the first aid would be to loosen his neck gear and to raise his head to let the blood flow out freely through the veins; and to free his breathing, since it was loudly snoring, by holding his tongue out of his mouth and by pushing his chin well up until a doctor could be secured to take care of this serious and perhaps fatal attack, probably apoplexy, which means blood leaking from its vessels into the brain. Mr. Bultitude did not recover consciousness in a few minutes and was carried senseless to his house.

Jack Clark, on a hot August day, on a hike with his Boy Scout Troop, began to lag and feel "all in"; he presently dropped senseless to the ground, with a wet, cold, pale face. Jack was suffering from heat exhaustion, which is like fainting. His pale face showed that there was not enough blood going into his brain. His fellow-scouts gave him prompt "first aid." They carried him to a shady place, put him in a comfortable position, kept his head flat on the ground, dried and warmed his cold, wet skin by rubbing it vigorously with towels, and flicked his face with a wet handkerchief. In three minutes by the Scout Master's watch, Jack opened his eyes, sat up, and felt sick at his stomach, sat up, and in ten minutes more wanted to go on. The boys sent him home in a passing automobile, and sent word to his doctor.

A cold, pale sweat is a sign of trouble, sometimes serious trouble. A hot, red sweat is usually a sign of health. A sudden attack of insensibility is of serious consequence in proportion to the time it lasts.

When a person is unconscious efforts to administer stimulants by the mouth are not only useless, but dangerous.

When the face is red and congested, the head should be elevated. When the face is pale, the head should be kept low.

When you do not know what to do, do nothing; except place the patient in a comfortable position protected from the heat in summer, from cold in winter.

DOULTRY

MITES CAUSE OF SCALY LEG

Application of Crude Petroleum to Legs With Brush or Dipping Is Best Treatment.

Two species of itch mites attack fowls, one of which is the cause of scaly leg. While this mite commonly remains on the feet, burrowing through the scales and causing their enlargement, it also attacks the comb and the neck. A crust of loose tissue is formed above the burrows, and intense itching results from this mining habit. When scaly leg is left untreated the feet of the birds often become badly distorted, and in some cases the fowl can scarcely walk or get to the perch. Sometimes terminal joints of the toes are lost.

As the mites are transferred from one bird to another, scaly-leg fowls should be treated promptly and should not be introduced among clean birds. Investigations made under the supervision of the United States Department of Agriculture show that carbolineum or crude petroleum used on the roosts doubtless will aid in preventing the spread of the scaly-leg mite from one fowl to another. Applying crude petroleum to the legs with a brush or dipping the legs into this oil is very effective. One application usually is sufficient, but if the scales are not largely shed off after a lapse of 30 days the treatment should be repeated. Kerosene oil is applied by some farmers in the same way, but is less effective than crude oil. In using either, care should be taken not to get the oil on the upper part of the leg or on the feathers. A less severe but more laborious treatment consists of soaking the feet in warm soap-suds until the scales are loosened and then greasing the feet and legs with sulphur and lard, or lard containing 6 per cent crude carbolic acid.

The other itch mite, commonly called the depilum mite, is a very small creature which burrows into the skin near the base of the feathers. The intense itching sometimes causes the fowls to pull their feathers until they are almost naked. Dipping of all fowls of an infested flock in a tub of water containing about two ounces of flowers of sulphur and one-half ounce of laundry soap to each gallon of water will give complete control. The fowls should be completely submerged and the feathers ruffled so all parts of the body will be reached by the liquid. Care should be taken to keep the dip stirred during treatment so as to keep the sulphur in suspension. In case a flock has lice as well as the depilum mite, three-fourths ounce or one heaping tablespoonful of sodium fluorid should be added to each gallon of water in the foregoing mixture.

Continuous Selection for Health and Vigor Will Insure Flock That Will Produce Fertile Eggs and Strong Chicks Capable of Making Quick Growth.

GIVE CHICKENS EARLY FEED

Excellent Plan to Have Some Grain Scattered in Litter Ready for Their Breakfast.

If there is a reasonable amount of litter on the floor and the house is rat-proof, it is a practical plan to feed so that there will be some grain left in the litter overnight. This will be an inducement to the hens to get to work as soon as it is daylight. That's one practical and inexpensive method of prolonging the day. As a rule, hens like to go to the perches rather early in the evening on cold days, but they will be down at dawn if they know that they will find something to eat. See to it that some grain is there in the litter ready for them. This is an easier and pleasanter method than getting around to do the feeding before daylight. If the hens loaf on the perches until broad daylight one of two things is wrong: Either the house is too dark or the hens are overfed. Either condition is readily corrected and it will be dollars in your pocket to do so.

SORT OF PULLET TO RETAIN

Fowl That Is Well Matured, Has Strong Constitution and Lays Early Is Valuable.

No matter what the breed, if the pullet is well matured, has a strong constitution, begins to lay early and is of good size and shape, she is valuable as a future inhabitant of the poultry yard. Cull out the poor birds.

HEALTH CHIROPRACTIC SERVICE

AT BEDFORD

Beginning Tuesday, April 5,

I will be at Bedford, at Union Hotel over Union Garage

Every

Tuesday, Thursday & Saturday

Afternoon from 1:00 till 5:00 p. m.

If your health is less than 100 per cent you will find the latch string on the outside, which will admit you to consultation and analysis FREE.

H. C. CLAYCOMB, D. C.

Major Work Exclusively

Palmer Graduate

U. C. A. Member C. A. P.

RUSH MARBLE AND GRNITE WORKS

RUSH C. LITZINGER, Proprietor

BEDFORD, PA.

Importer and Manufacturer of Marble and Granite Monuments, Headstones and Markers of every description, and all kinds of cemetery work. Our New Design Books show variety of latest Designs from which memorials will be furnished in clean new stock at moderate prices.

Partners of Uncle Sam

This National bank is a member of the Federal Reserve System and enjoys all the privileges of such an association.

A National bank must not only be sound but it must be of definite assistance to the community; it serves.

This bank is glad to give its patrons the advantages of its National charter.

The First National Bank Bedford, Penna.

ATTENTION
AUTO OWNERS

We have opened our store and are now in position to take care of your Tire and Tube needs. Our goods are all first class and guaranteed for 6000 miles. Get our prices before buying elsewhere. You will save money by dealing with us.

ZEE ZEE RUBBER CO.

YARDVILLE, N. J.

Bedford Chain Store

Arlington Hotel Bldg on Lincoln Highway

M. D. MYERS, Manager

Bell Phone 48.

Bedford Steam Laundry

Readjustment of Laundry prices and Service.

We have just installed one of the Latest Collar, Ironer and Finishing Machines on the market which will enable us to give our patrons pre-war prices and work of the highest quality.

Get your duds,

In our suds

Phone and our driver will call. You patronage solicited.

BEDFORD STEAM LAUNDRY.

AN ICE CREAM

By MYRTLE E. WHITEMORE

Miss Charlotte dropped her work in her lap and ceased to rock. Dressed in lavender negligee she sat in the little sewing room on the north side of the house crocheting. It was the 31st of July with the thermometer registering 94 degrees in the shade. No wonder Miss Charlotte was finding difficulty in concentrating her mind on her pattern.

"Oh," how I wish I had an ice cream, she sighed. "But it's Sadie's afternoon off, and surely nobody else wants to go out in this terrible heat." Mechanically she resumed her work.

"Oh, Elizabeth," she called "Are you going down town?"

"Would you be willing to bring me some ice cream?" she asked.

Elizabeth smiled her sweetest. "I'll be glad to," she said, "I'm going over to Grace's to tea and can't promise when I'll be coming home."

Elizabeth repeated her offer, but it was declined. So in all the vivacity and gaiety of her youth she skipped down the street, while Miss Charlotte lazily picked up her crocheting.

"Three open, two closed and three open," she murmured to herself, but her hook failed to keep pace with her counting. Suddenly an idea came to her. Laying her work in the basket. "I'll ask Mildred to bring it," she exclaimed as she reached for the phone.

"Give me 43," she called. "Hello—Miss Corey? I'm simply roasted up here on the hill and am dying for an ice cream. Would you bring it up when you come. . . . The last day of the month? Why, so it is, Mildred. I didn't think about your working late tonight. That's too bad. . . . Thank you just the same. I'll get along somehow."

Resignedly she leaned back in her rocking chair.

Suddenly she was roused from her napping by a knock at the back door. On the piazza stood a little boy about nine years old.

"Want to buy some blueberries?" he asked. "They're high bush and just picked."

"Won't you come in?" she asked kindly. "I can use a quart, I guess. How much are they?"

"Twenty-five."

"You look dreadfully hot," she continued, as she brought a small dish. "Did you have to go far for the berries?"

"Yes'm, way down to Beaver Pond's where the best berries grow. 'Twas some hot walking up to town, believe me."

Miss Charlotte went to the pantry again and returned with a larger dish. "Do you want to let me buy what berries you have," she asked, "and I'll have Sadie put them up tomorrow?"

The little boy grinned all over his face as he filled his measure again and again. As he picked up his empty pail, Miss Charlotte had a clever thought.

"Would you like to do an errand for me downtown?" she asked.

"Sure; what is it?"

Miss Charlotte counted out the change while she explained. "I want some ice cream. Go to Lane's and ask for a pint box of dry-packed Harlequin. Can you remember all that?"

"Sure," again came the prompt reply as he repeated the errand before starting out the door.

Not five minutes later the doorbell rang and to her amazement Miss Charlotte saw Elizabeth.

"I've brought you the ice cream," said the girl. "I came home early as I hated to think of you sitting here all alone."

"You dear child," said Miss Charlotte. "You'll stay, of course, and help me eat it, won't you?" and she hastened to set the table with her pretty glass dishes.

Just as they had begun to eat, the doorbell rang again. Greatly amused by this time, Miss Charlotte ushered in Gertrude Corey carrying a small box in her hand.

"Mildred told me you wanted some ice cream," she explained.

"You darling!" exclaimed Miss Charlotte. "Elizabeth has brought me some, too. Won't you come in and join us? We've got lots more than we can eat." So Gertrude sat down to the table, delighted to eat with her elders.

It seemed only a moment later when they were interrupted by a knock at the back door.

"That's my little blueberry boy," Miss Charlotte excused herself. "He's brought me some cream, too."

She laughed as she confronted the boy with the package. "Well, my little man, it looks as though you would have to eat all that cream yourself, for I have had two boxes brought me already."

The child's eyes grew as big as saucers. "Honest?" he asked doubtfully.

"Of course. Come in, and see," and she opened the screen door. The boy peeped into the dining room and was satisfied.

"Can I take it home to ma?" was his immediate question. "She likes ice cream, too."

"You may do anything you like with it," Miss Charlotte smiled. "I have all I want here."

Again the little chap picked up his empty pail.

"I'll bring you some more berries tomorrow," he said.

"Goodness me, not before Saturday," she called as she laughingly went back to her guests.

Uncle Walt's Story

VEXATION OF SPIRIT

"WHEN I was in business," said the retired merchant, "I never had time to read much, and I used to look forward to the glad day when I could revel in literature. I felt sure I'd be entirely happy. I used to jot down the titles of books I intended to read, and when I retired from business I had a list as long as the Russian battle line.

"And now that I can read all I want to, I don't get any enjoyment out of books. They bore me the worst way. I get sleepy as soon as I begin to read, and my wife comes and tells me my snoring is disturbing the neighbors."

"It's that way with everything we look forward to," observed the hotel-keeper, sadly. "Man always will be, but he's never blest, as some half-baked poet remarked. Young Gooseworthy was in here last evening, bubbling over with happiness. There wasn't anybody around, so he took me into his confidence. He's going to marry Gwendolin Jimalong, next month, and he's perfectly satisfied that his married life will be one long stretch of sunshine. He seems to have the idea that he's going to do something original when he gets married, but the idea isn't new. Men have been getting married ever since Christopher discovered Columbus, Ohio, and every joggone man jack of them had the idea that everlasting bliss was going to be inaugurated on the wedding day."

"I listened to Gooseworthy for three hours, and hadn't the heart to say anything that would dampen his enthusiasm. His twittering recalled the long vanished days when I was getting ready to be married. I felt about it then just as he does now. I thought the parson opened the gates of paradise when he joined two loving hearts. My wife lived up to all the plans and specifications, and was and is one of the best women in the United States, but I hadn't been married three months before I had a sneaking conviction that the man who gets married is a chump."

"A good many optimists say that a married man doesn't need any more money than a single one, if he marries the right sort of woman, but they might as well go to the blackboard and demonstrate that two and two make two, instead of four. I fell for that cheerful theory when I was married. I was earning enough to keep myself comfortably, and never had any financial worries. I could have been buried for less money than it took to be married, and the expenses from that time forward were double what they used to be, although my wife was so economical she used to make waists and such things for herself out of my superannuated shirts."

"Oh, doggone it, there isn't any unadulterated happiness in matrimony. I wonder that young fellows like Gooseworthy don't look around them, and contemplate the dejected appearance of the majority of husbands. But even if they did, it wouldn't do them any good, I suppose, for they are full of pipe dreams, and they think the girls they are going to marry are different from all other girls, and that they will prove exceptions to the general rule."

"I had a wise old uncle in those halcyon days, and about a week before the wedding day, he backed me into a corner and handed me a dust-proof package of wisdom. He tried to lead me into taking a sensible view of the future. He talked about the cares and responsibilities that would be mine after the wedding, and wanted to know if I felt equal to them. He tried to show me that I wasn't going to marry an angel, but a human being like myself, with a human being's faults and frailties."

"I let him get that far, and then I told him that his gray hairs alone saved him from having his head remodeled, and said I never wanted him to darken my door, and he never did. I had to darken it myself, with walnut stain. But many a time afterward, I recalled his wise words and wept over his grave."

Well Off.

"After all a man never knows when he's well off."

"What's happened now?"

"I was just thinking what a fool I was for trading off my Liberty bonds for oil stock."

Nut Walter Wanted.

An old lady, after waiting in a confectionery store for about ten minutes, grew grossly impatient at the lack of service. Finally she rapped sharply on the counter.

"Here, young lady," she called, "who waits on the nuts?—Everybody's Magazine."

The Consequence.

"At the anti-dog meeting nobody muzzled the speakers."

"That was the reason, then, there were so many bfling remarks."

CARL F. ESPENSCHADE

DEPARTMENT STORE

"The Dependable Store"

BEDFORD, PA.

PENNSYLVANIA

The interesting facts here stated may give us all additional reasons for being so proud of the Grand Old Keystone State, we love to call our own.

One of the original thirteen states of the Union; founded by William Penn in 1643; settled in the year 1682; entered the Union December 12, 1787; today it ranks as one of the greatest of the 48 states, leading in mining and many other industries.

Population in 1920 8,720,159. Covers an area of 45,126 square miles.

Ranks first in the production of Coal, having produced over 250,000,000 tons, all kinds in 1918.

Ranks first in the production of Iron, having produced 15,198,000 tons out of a total in the United States of 39,051,991 tons in 1919.

Is the second richest state, its estimated wealth being $6,141,384,210.

Paid the second largest income and profit tax in 1919, being $301,111,410.79.

Has the greatest number of cities and towns of any state in the Union.

Has the greatest number of "General stores, over 12,000, also the greatest number of "Department" stores.

The average yearly earnings of each employee in the state during 1919 amounted to $1428.55.

Carl F. Espenschade.

Tricolette Sport Scarfs

These beautiful scarfs are made of a fine quality Fibre Silk and trimmed with a deep rich fringe. They are 18x72 inches and come in the popular new Spring shades including: Honey dew, Burnt Orange, Bisque, Tangerine, Tomato, Jade, Mrs. Harding Blue, Rose, Blacks. While this shipment lasts we offer them at $5.00 each

A Remarkable April Selling of Women's New Coats and Suits

Only when a very special purchase makes it possible can such values as these be offered. Values which lie in the styles presented as well as in the unusual quality of materials and trimmings used and also in the moderateness of the price. A pleasure to show our after Easter arrivals.

Oxfords or High Shoes

This is the season when it is merely a matter of personal preference as to the choice of High or Low Shoes. All the old popular lasts are here and some new ones too.

Newly Patterned Gighams & Voiles

Both the quality and the price of these Summer Dress goods will prove interesting to women who know the important position occupied by these fabrics in the Realm of Fashion for Spring and Summer. Select your dress pattern now so you can be cool and comfortable when the hot Summer Days come.

HOSIERY

Newly arrived for all your needs. Whether you need Hosiery to withstand the strain of strenuous out door work or sport or to add charm to an evening costume. You will find something here to please you. Also Hosiery for the Kiddies.

HOME FURNISHINGS

Again we call your attention to our preparedness to supply your needs in the many big and little articles needed at this particular time of Moving, Selling and House Cleaning.

Saturday and Monday Specials

10 only Latest Style Spring Silk Dresses. Produced in Taffeta, Charmeuse, Crepe-de-chine, Canton Crepe. Regularly priced at $30.00 for these two days at $20.00

Children's Wash Dresses

Another shipment of best quality Amoskeag Gingham. Sizes 2 to 12. For these two days at $1.00 each

Shirting Cheviots

33 in. stripes and best quality for general wear 18c per yd.

Figured Voiles

A good quality suitable for waists and dresses. While it lasts per yd. 15c

Cocoa

High grade bulk cocoa. New stock 2 lbs for 15c

Corn

Fine quality of canned Corn Special 3 cans 23c

Men's Hose

Black only. Good Dress Hose 15c pr. pair.

Every Day

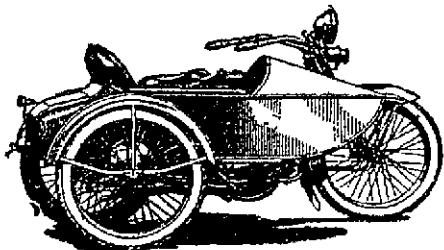

Onion Sets 8c per qt. 2 qts. for 15c.

COAL! COAL!! COAL!!!

BIG VEIN GEORGE'S CREEK

AT

$7.50 Per Ton Delivered
DAVIDSON BROS.

To use a Harley Davidson means Economy

40 to 60 miles per gal. gas

800 to 1000 miles per gal. oil.

Small size tires are used.

A model for every use.

The big superpower "74" is here.

With pal in sidecar it climbs mountains with the ease of the high powered, high priced car.

Ask for catalog, demonstration and terms.

IRA ROBINSON
Purcell, Pa.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

ESTATE OF John Grablun, late of East St. Clair Township, Bedford County, Pa., Deceased.

Letters testamentary having been granted the undersigned executrix in the last will and testament of John Grablun late of East St. Clair Township, Bedford county, Pa., deceased, all persons having claims or demands against the estate of the said decedent are hereby notified to present the same without delay for payment, and all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make prompt payment of the same.

Alena Grablun, Executrix.

Wolfsburg, Pa. R. D.

Frank E. Colvin, Attorney.

March 25 April 29.

Four lone highwaymen held up and robbed Alexander Mosley last night. They took eighty cents, which belonged to the Fair View church, of which Mr. Mosley is treasurer. In order that he might be able to account to the church for the disbursement of funds, Alex made them give him a receipt for the money.

Some time when you get measles, small pox or crawlers send for your creditors and tell them you have something you can give them now.

TUBERCULOSIS IN CHICKENS

Disease Is Quite Common and Is Caused by Quarters Being Poorly Ventilated and Lighted.

Tuberculosis in poultry results in a loss of weight. The birds may look all right for a time, but they will be found to be light. Mr. Barton, of the North Dakota Agricultural college, states that in the later stages the birds become weak, often they cannot fly onto the roosts, but sit in a corner, and after a little die. According to Mr. Barton, this disease is quite common, affecting turkeys as well as chickens. One way to tell if the birds have tuberculosis is to cut them open. If the bird is light in weight and the liver is enlarged and spotted it may be quite safe to say that it has been suffering from tuberculosis.

He states that small quarters, poorly ventilated, poorly lighted, and damp are conducive to the spread of the disease. The best remedy is to dispose of all infected birds and if the flock is badly infected to dispose of all the birds; then thoroughly clean the house and yards, disinfect and start over again with tuberculosis-free birds. Mr. Barton recommends a disinfectant made up in the ratio of one ounce of creolin and one ounce of carbolic acid to one gallon of water.

PROPER SHELTER FOR GEESE

Some Protection Should Be Provided During Winter and Stormy Weather—Have It Dry.

Except in winter or during stormy weather, when some protection should be provided, mature geese do not usually need a house. Some kind of shelter, such as a shed open on the south side, a poultry house, or a barn, is usually provided. The goose house should be kept clean and plenty of clean straw provided for the floor.

Raincoat of Paper.

One of the most serviceable waterproofs is the raincoat of Mitsunata paper made from the leaves and stems of a small shrub which grows in the mountains of Japan.

PENROSE'S RAY OF HOPE

According to the Constitution of the United States, which Postmaster General Hays thinks is probably of Divine origin, "All bills for raising revenues shall originate in the House of Representatives."

According to the experiences of the American people, all bills for raising revenue are framed in the United States Senate. That is why nobody is paying the slightest attention to what the Republican leaders of the House are saying in regard to the revision of taxation and that is why everybody is intensely interested in anything that is said by Boise Penrose, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

So far as Congress is concerned, Senator Penrose is the man who will have the last word in any programme of taxation that is adopted, and the Senator from Philadelphia has begun to take the country--and Congress--into his confidence.

The Penrose plan is to submit schedules of tax revision "almost simultaneously with the presentation of a tariff bill". These schedules cannot be adopted immediately of course, but apparently they are to be underwritten by the Administration, and by giving assurances to the taxpayers "will be almost equal to relief legislation." That is a sound policy, provided, of course, that the tentative schedules will relieve labor and productive industry from the burdens under which they are staggering and at the same time furnish revenue enough for the needs of the Government.

To begin with, Senator Penrose expects that "profit taxes will be abolished and income taxes will be reduced to the collective point all along the line, which of itself is good news, but the matter does not end there. New taxes must be imposed, and no scheme of taxation, can be anything but a drain on industry. The issue hinges on the choice of evils.

If the United States Government persists in spending $4,000,000,000 a year, that $4,000,000,000 must be earned by the American people before the Government can spend it, and $4,000,000,000 is still a considerable sum of money. Congress may speak of it lightly, but the people who have to earn it have a keen realization of what it all means and will continue to have a keen realization no matter what expedients may be adopted to take this money away from them. There is no such thing as painless taxation when a budget of $4,000,000,000 must be met.

REGAINS 'SPEECH' IN 14,000 FEET

Recovery of Service Man Declared to Be First of Kind on Record.

Washington, March 29.—An air plane flight at an altitude of 14,000 feet to-day restored the power of speech to H. A. Renz, Jr., twenty-two years old, and a former soldier, who for eight months has been unable to speak above a whisper. His voice which left him one night while asleep, was returned to normal within an hour.

Renz, while in the Camp Corps at Camp Colt, Pennsylvania, injured a finger which failed to heal and finally was amputated. It is not known whether the infection was in any way responsible for the loss of his voice an effort to recover his speech he also had removed his tonsils and adenoids. Eminent specialists had treated him without result.

As a veteran and beneficiary of war risk insurance, Renz consulted the Public Health Service and Dr. Charles E. McEnerney diagnosed the case as partial aphonia, with paralysis of the adductor muscles of the throat. An air flight to high altitude was prescribed, and through co-operation of the Army Air Service Renz found his voice somewhere in the rarified air above Boeing Field. It is the first case of the kind on record. Public Health Service stated.

The Magic of Interest

"Money makes money and the money that makes more money."

On our Savings Accounts a new interest period begins April 1st.

Try keeping your money at work.

Hartley Banking Co.

BEDFORD, PA.

49 Years in Business 49

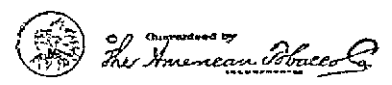

GET WISE

Low Bloom came nearly being pinched yesterday morning. He was walking down Pitt street when he met a lady with her small, mud-colored, monkey-faced poodle attached to a string. He accidentally stepped on the young lady's dog's tail. When he had removed his mud-scow the young lady stooped up and pulled down the pup and commenced to cry. Tears of contrition ran down her fat cheeks and rested on her extended bosom. Low never felt so sorry in all his life. He felt touched and apologizingly said, "Miss, if your dog dies, I'll replace him". She looked him over with scorn and finally said, "Go home! You flatter yourself."

CIGARETTE

No cigarette has the same delicious flavor as Lucky Strike. Because Lucky Strike is the toasted cigarette.

STECKMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frederick and daughter of Sprout spent Wednesday night at the home of Watler Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Blankley visited Harry Barney's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Conlon and daughter Helen visited John Casteel and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Conner and grand-daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Steckman Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Grove and children visited at the home of Mrs. S. A. Thomas.

Those who spent Sunday afternoon at the home of J. A. Means were viz: Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Means and daughter Miss Stella, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Koontz, Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Beegle and children Herbert and Louise, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Grove and children Lydia and Pearl, Mrs. S. A. Thomas, Joe Morris and Marshall Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swartzwelder of Bedford visited Mrs. Swartzwelder's parents Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Koontz.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Weimer and sons David and Delmer of Altoona spent from Tuesday until Monday at the home of Scott Weimer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frederick and daughter have been spending a few days with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robinson and daughter Flora visited Mrs. Robinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Johnson Sunday.

Miss Lydia Conner visited her friend Miss Emma Wilson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Brown of Fayette City spent a few days recently with Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Garlick.

Mr. B. F. Koontz and Mr. John Blankley were working on the Telephone line Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Diehl and children are spending a few days with Mrs. Diehl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Smith.

Messrs. Earl Robinette and Lloyd Conlon visited at the home of Top Robinette Sunday afternoon.

There will be Sunday School at the Black Valley Union Church Sunday, Mar. 27th, at 10 o'clock. All welcome.

Mrs. B. F. Koontz and son Ellis autoed to Clearville, Monday afternoon to visit their aunt Mrs. Elizabeth Kennard.

SCHELLSBURG

Dr. J. C. Anderson had sale of his goods on Saturday and will leave this week for Virginia. This leaves Schellsburg with but one residing physician in the town. We hope that we may get another good one soon, for there is a large territory her for them to work over.

We are badly in need of a good blacksmith as the farmers or any one needing repairs in that line or to have their horses shod have to go so far that they are put back considerably.

Miss Elizabeth Deaner who has been very sick for several weeks is slowly improving.

Dr. W. W. Van Ormer is improving slowly.

T. H. Rock is plastering the Ideal Garage this week.

The men who are drilling for oil a short distance from town are down about 150 ft.

Mr. Jas A. Miller and family spent Sunday with friends in Huntington.

The entertainment given by the Bell Ringing Male Quartet on Saturday evening was enjoyed by a full house. They also gave a short entertainment to a good audience on Sunday night in connection with Rev. Geo. Metgers services.

There is a number of folks suffering with Grip here.

Harry Smith is moving from Vine St. to W. F. Schell's tenant house on Main St.

There will be a number of families who will change houses this week or next.

J. C. Williams who has been housed up so long with rheumatism is able to sit on the porch a little.

FOR CONSTIPATION BEECHAM'S PILLS

No Limit.

Cars that run into four figures were to be seen at many stands at the recent motor show. In the ordinary way motor cars run into as many figures as get in their way.—London Punch.

WHY A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Since the adoption of the present constitution of Pennsylvania thirty-three States of the Union have adopted new constitutions. This means that the people of the United States to the number of more than seven times the population of Pennsylvania have brought, or attempted to bring their several State constitutions up to date.

What would the people of Pennsylvania think of a State which neglected to bring its constitution into harmony with existing conditions? Is Pennsylvania unchanged during the past fifty years? Is there a successful business man living who transacts his business precisely as he did fifty years ago?

The Legislature of 1919 that enacted the law creating the constitutional commission must have believed that the problem was worth looking into whether the present constitution is best adapted to the needs and welfare of the people of this Commonwealth.

The Governor, acting under full understanding of his heavy responsibilities, complied with the letter and spirit of the act creating the commission when he appointed its members.

We have then, the Legislature, the Governor of the State, the commission especially created to study the subject, and the fact that the present constitution was framed fifty years ago, under very different conditions than those now existing, as moving considerations why a convention should be called and its work be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection.

HOW TO SECURE A NEW CONSTITUTION

The only way by which the people of Pennsylvania can secure a new constitution is to call a constitutional convention. Such a convention can be called only by the Legislature. It must consist of delegates elected by the people for a specific purpose, to do a particular kind of work. Such a convention may frame a plan of government, a proposed constitution, but that plan must be submitted according to law to the voters of the State. Whether the plan submitted shall become the State constitution depends wholly upon the vote of the people.

The present Legislature has power to provide for calling a constitutional convention. The late constitutional commission, after comprehensively and in detail going into the entire matter reports to the Legislature in favor of calling such a convention. The commission acted upon a knowledge fixed by experience.

One hundred and thirty changes in the constitution have been recommended by the commission as essential to bring the fundamental law into harmony with "modern thought and conditions." In working out the suggested changes the commission proceeded cautiously, according to experience at large or according to good and sufficient reasons advanced by the commission itself.

The draft of a constitution worked out by the late commission is no more than a suggestion. In order that a constitution may be submitted to the people the Legislature must call a constitutional convention authorized to work out such a supreme law. Do we wish to continue to be governed by a law almost fifty years old?

Because the changes proposed in revising the Pennsylvania constitution are badly needed, and because they are demanded not only for the advancement of public welfare, but also the interest of common business efficiency, opposition at this time is extremely reactionary and extremely quiet. Nevertheless, it is strong and it behooves every citizen who is interested in achieving the improvement which can be gained only by striking the obstacles at their roots to work actively and continually that the present opportunity may not be lost.

As a result of more than a year's labor the commission on constitution and revision has prepared a proposed revised constitution for Pennsylvania, that embodies vital changes effecting in a constructive way almost every phase of human activity in any State. The constitutional convention, therefore, will have before it a carefully prepared plan of revision as well as the large amount of material collected and digested by the commission. Every civic minded citizen, therefore, should insist on this convention.

SPECIAL NOTICE WE LEAD OTHERS FOLLOW THE---BEE---HIVE

Cumberland's Only 2 in 1 Shoe Store & Electric Repair Dept.

We have just opened an up-to-date Electric Repair Dept. In connection with our Shoe Store, we have installed the latest Good Year Machinery and we are equipped to take care of any kind of Shoe Troubles. This is no Cobble shop, this is a hospital for tired aching feet, and delapidated foot wear. Send us your old Shoes or a pair of good Tops and have them rebuilt. Prompt attention and a positive guarantee accompanies every pair made to order shoes. Alterations of any kind for Cripples or deformed Feet, also repairs for Artificial Limbs given special attention. Don't worry about your broken wood heels, mail them to us and we will put on a pair of new Aluminum Heels in all colors in Cuban, Military, Baby Louis, Louis or French. Guaranteed not to break. Prices on all Mdse and Repairs the lowest in the City. We handle nothing but the highest grade Foot Wear, and use nothing but the highest grade Leather and Supplies obtainable. We employ the best skilled mechanics. Mr. Eyler who has charge of the shop is a practical shoe builder having worked at his trade since boy hood. Let us show you what can be made out of a Pair of old Tops. Gather up your old shoes, mail them to us, we will rebuild them and return Parcel Post collect. If not satisfactory money will be refunded.

Bricker's Bee Hive FOR ELECTRICAL REPAIRS AND ALL KIND FOOTWEAR

65 N. Center St. Opposite City Hall Phone 1062.

WORTH KNOWING

A $5,000 Policy In the United Life and Accident Insurance Co. of Concord, N. H. Guarantees;

FIRST, that in case of death from any cause $5,000, the face of the Policy will be paid.

SECOND, that in case of death from any ACCIDENT $10,000 DOUBLE the face of the Policy will be paid.

THIRD, that in case of death from certain SPECIFIED accidents, $15,000 or THREE TIMES the face of the Policy will be paid.

FOURTH, that in case you are unable to work as a result of accidental injury from any cause, the Company will pay direct to YOU at the rate of $50 PER WEEK during such disability, but not to exceed 52 weeks, after which the weekly Indemnity will be at the rate of $25 PER WEEK throughout the period of such disability.

Can Insurance do MORE? and WHY should any man be satisfied with a policy that would do less?

Mr. C. A. Humbert, General Agent,
UNITED LIFE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY,

Altoona, Pennsylvania.

Without committing my self to any action, I shall be glad to have you send me full particulars, regarding the above policy for $..... Age (nearest birthday)

..... Business or occupation

Name Address

This Policy not issued for less than One Thousand nor more than Ten Thousand Dollars.

Reliable Representatives wanted. Several good openings for District Agencies.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

ESTATE OF John M. Vanhorn, late of West Providence Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

Letters testamentary having been granted the undersigned Executor named in the last will and testament of John M. Vanhorn late of West Providence township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased all persons having claims or demands against the estate of the said decedent are hereby notified to present the same without delay for payment, and all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make prompt payment of the same.

Lizzie Vanhorn,
Executrix,
Everett, Rt. 3

B. F. Madore,
Attorney.
Feb. 25 to Apr. 1.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

ESTATE OF Mary Fisher, late of Bedford Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

Letters testamentary having been granted to the undersigned executor named in the last will and testament of Mary Fisher late of Bedford Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased, all persons having claims or demands against the estate of the said decedent are hereby notified to present the same without delay for payment, and all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make prompt payment of the same.

John T. Fisher,
Executor,
Bedford, Pa.

B. F. Madore,
Attorney.
Mar. 25 to April 29.

Lamps Shine Downwardly.

A new form of lamp designed in England maintains a long, horizontal are especially useful for the overhead lighting of film studios, or for photo printing.

The Stellar Universe.

The stellar universe has a background of pearly white, and astronomers are guessing whether this shimmering shroud is made of quadrillions of suns or whether the universe is immersed in nebulous matter.

The WRECKERS By FRANCIS LYNDE

COPYRIGHT, BY CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

Here You Have It! The Latest of Francis Lynde's Wonderful Railroad Stories!

When Graham Norcross, general manager of the Pioneer Short Line, determined to run his railroad squarely, he was in for the fight of his life with the corrupt stock jobbers and crooked politicians in league with them. Norcross' opponents meant business. They didn't shy at gun fights and causing train wrecks.

Here are some real adventures in big business. Here's a thrilling story of railroading in the West that holds you with its vividness and realism and—oh, yes—its romance, too.

What happened is all told in a delightfully breezy and irresistibly absorbing way by Norcross' boy stenographer —Jimmy Dodds.

You Are in Luck, for Soon You Will Have a Chance to Read It as a Serial in This Paper!

Francis
Lynde

Adventures with the Iron Horse and the Gleaming Rails! An Epic of Railroading and the Romance of Big Business!

The Wreckers By FRANCIS LYNDE

The author was a railroad man for many years—he writes from the inside. Reading this captivating story you will feel all the thrills of a personal participant in its episodes—smashing adventures, gun fights, train wrecks, battles of wits between industrial giants—and an enticing romance involving a big-brained, big-souled, far-seeing executive (who believed in taking public and employees into partnership with his railroad) and an unusual woman who possessed keenness, intuition, strategy and the female qualities necessary to make her a perfect complement to the man.

"The Wreckers" Will Appear as a Serial in these Columns

Do Not Miss It!

This writer of great railroad stories was a railroader in the Rocky Mountains country until he was 37 years of age. Then he took his pen in hand to write big romances about the life he had witnessed and lived. During the first five years he had no conspicuous success, but in 1898 destiny reshaped the point of his fountain pen and he wrote three novels within twelve months. Each of the three was a ten-strike. Then the 25-cent and 35-cent magazines began to bid for his work and the little old 10-cent and 15-cent monthlies that had kept his pot boiling were deserted. During the past 20 years he has written 17 successful novels. Readers of this paper will have an opportunity to read his latest, probably his greatest story, "The Wreckers," as a serial. Watch for it!

Relapse Ahead.

A physician claims to have restored two patients to sanity by pulling their teeth. When they see the bill they may go crazy again.—Pittsburgh Sun.

An Alaskan Economy.

Refrigerating plants for reindeer meat to be built in Alaska. Ice should be cheap there, even if the meat is deer.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

SCHILLBURG, PENNA.

The small bank with big backing

3% Compound Interest paid on time deposits 3%

You can open a Savings or Checking account with us with $1.00

Your Patronage is Invited.

Large enough to serve you
Strong enough to protect you

Number Ten is the Best Blood Purifier made.

A Fifty-cent bottle contains a two month's treatment and spring is the best time to use it.

Ed. D. Heckerman
The Druggist Bedford, Pa.

THE MAN WITH VIGOR A WINNER

No Wonder Some Folks Have a Hard Time Getting Ahead

It Takes Red Blood to Succeed

Pepto-Mangan Restores Vigor
A Really Wonderful Tonic
Purifies and Tones Up the Blood

It takes vitality to succeed because success requires hard work.

Some times you get along all right. Other times you have to strain and you overexert yourself. When that happens, your system is overtaxed. It shows first in the blood. The overexertion causes an increase in waste matter. The blood struggles to take care of it all. Gradually the poisons in the waste increases too fast for the blood. Then the blood becomes "logged."

First thing you know you feel all tired out. Sleep does you little good. You can't eat well. You wonder what the trouble is.

Then is the time to get some Pepto-Mangan, the blood building tonic. Take it for awhile till your blood is cleared up. You'll soon have plenty of rich, red blood. Notice the difference in your work. Your old-time energy returns. You win out because you are stronger.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. The tablets have the same medicinal value as the liquid. Take either kind you prefer. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" should be on the package. Advertisement.

ENDORSED AT HOME

SUCH PROOF AS THIS SHOULD CONVINCE ANY BEDFORD CITIZEN

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Bedford adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

R. W. Grabill, Railroad Ave., says: "For some time I was troubled with my kidneys. There were severe pains in my back and on getting up in the morning I would ache all over. I had had headaches too. I started the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and soon all the headaches and pains in my back went away and I felt better in every way. On similar occasions since I have used Doan's and have found them to do the same good work."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Grabill had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

ESTATE OF Oscar Irvin Hershberger, late of Napier Township, Bedford County, Pa., Deceased.

Letters of administration on the above estate having been granted to the undersigned all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make prompt payment, and those having claims to present the same without delay to

Carrie E. Hershberger,
Administratrix
Point, Pa.

Charles R. Mock,
Attorney,
Hartley Bank Building,
Bedford, Pa.

April 1
Feb. 25 to April 1.

ORPHANS' COURT SALE

The undersigned Trustee to sell the real estate of William H. Frazier, late of the Borough of Hyndman, Bedford County, Pa., deceased, will offer at public sale on Tuesday April 5, 1921 at 10 o'clock a. m. the following described Real Estate being what is known as the Commercial Hotel Property Fronting 82 feet on Front Street and extending back 60 feet to Washington Street and having thereon erected a two story frame and brick building containing 22 rooms and having been used and occupied for years as a hotel. The building is in a good state of repair.

Terms: Ten per cent of purchase price paid or secured to be paid when property is struck down, balance of one third when sale is confirmed and deed delivered, one-third in six months and one-third in one year with interest on deferred payments which are to be secured by purchase money mortgage.

Elizabeth A. Frazier,
Trustee.

Alvin L. Little,
Attorney,
March 18 Apr. 1

J. ROY CESSNA
He's The Insurance Man
Bedford, Pa.

Veracious Epitaph.
On a tombstone in New Jersey—
"John Adams Died of Thin Shoes,
Aged 10 years

POULTRY

PLAN FOR FATTENING FOWLS

Profit Just as Sure With Poultry as It Is With Cattle and Hogs, Says Specialist.

If it pays to fatten hogs and cattle before they are marketed, why won't it pay to fatten poultry before marketing it? The same conditions apply in each case, says F. E. Fox of the poultry department, Kansas State Agricultural college.

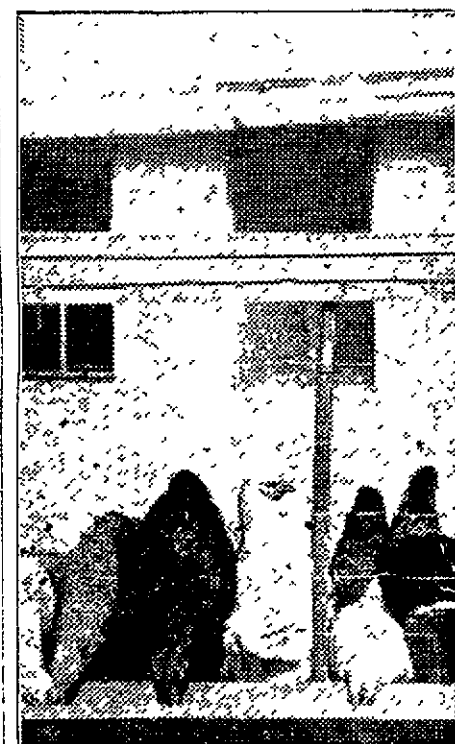

Mr. Fox, who has had packing house experience, says that the largest per cent of poultry that comes to the packing house has to be fattened before it is killed. It is the custom on the ordinary farm to cull out the flock the night or morning before marketing regardless of the condition of the birds. The poultry have been running on the range around the barnyard picking up most of their living and are just in a good growthy condition ready to take on fat at very little cost.

The farmer should cull out his flock and either crate feed or put them in a small pen under sanitary conditions for a period of two weeks and give them all the corn, kafir, or other grains they will eat, Mr. Fox says. This is long enough to feed under ordinary conditions.

If a farmer has the time the most profitable way to dispose of his surplus poultry is to milk feed them for fancy trade such as hotels and wealthy customers in a nearby town or city. There is usually great demand for high class poultry for Sunday and holiday trade in the city.

Milk feeding is practiced extensively in packing houses. The chickens are crate fed on a ration of corn meal or other mash feed mixed with two parts of buttermilk and poured in the troughs on the side of the crate. They are fed for about three weeks all they will clean up twice or three times a day.

The main objection to milk feeding on the farm is that the birds have to be dressed at home. If sold alive they shrink a great deal in taking them to market and they may get bruised or get their bones broken, as the milk makes their flesh soft and tender and their bones weak and brittle.

Homemade Coop for Fattening Poultry.

LITTLE TROUBLE WITH GEESSE

Lameness, Caused by Confinement and Improper Food, Is Chief Ailment of Fowls.

Geese should be easier to raise than any other kind of poultry, as under correct conditions there should be no disease among the young. A leading breeder of geese says that the only ailment he has to contend with is lameness, which is generally caused by too close confinement, unwholesome food, too warm housing or too close quarters. Geese require dry and wind-proof quarters with litter on the floor and will stand the hardest winter weather.

To treat lameness give a tablespoonful of castor oil, by holding the beak open and working it down the throat. Renew the dose next day, if necessary. Keep the ailing bird in a dry place and feed stale bread and water.

STANDARD-BRED FOWLS BEST

Some Farmers Can Make Money With Mongrels, but High-Class Birds Will Do Better.

Sometimes a man succeeds with barnyard mongrels better than his neighbor with prize-winning fowls because he gives them better care. But let the successful farmer, who has not already done so turn his attention to pure-bred birds and he will derive a still larger profit in dollars and satisfaction.

HIGH MORTALITY IN POULTS

Some of the Most Common Causes Are Exposure to Cold and Dampness and Overfeeding.

The high mortality common in young poult usually is due to some of the following causes: Exposure to dampness and cold, overfeeding; lack of clean water; and lack of clean food.

CHANGING SUITS

By KITTY PARSONS.

(©, 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

It was a scorching hot day in July and the thought of a cool bath in the ocean was the pleasantest thing in the world to Janet. Then, she opened her bundle and took out her lovely new bathing suit—or at least, what she thought was her suit.

"Oh—oh!" exclaimed Janet, in utter amazement as she gazed at the ugly black garment in her hands. "This is a man's suit!"

She decided she had picked up the wrong bundle as she left the car, and then hurried out to the pavilion.

There was no one in sight who seemed to be looking for anything and after wandering about aimlessly for a few minutes Janet decided to forego her bath, and sat down on the sand to rest. In a few minutes she noted the approach of a young man.

"It's all my fault," he began at once. "I was in such a hurry to get in the water that I must have taken your suit by mistake—I'm dreadfully sorry!" He handed her the missing suit.

"It wasn't your fault any more than mine," returned Janet. You should have grabbed your suit away from me."

"I couldn't—I hadn't the courage," Janet laughed.

"You don't look so very timid," she assured him.

"Well, I really am. Right now I'm dying to ask you something, but I'm simply trembling with fear."

"Try and see what happens—do I look like a dragon?"

"No, but it's such a nerve thing to ask—without any guarantee of respectability or anything. Could you go to dinner with me—on faith?"

"I'd like to, but I'm afraid I shouldn't. My mother has always lectured me about speaking to strange young men, from the cradle up; you don't look like a villain, though."

"I'm not, really; and under the circumstances I think any mother would trust her daughter to my tender care. Won't you take pity on me?"

"All right, I will," said Janet, deciding to be reckless for once in her life. And of course it really was all her fault about the suit.

"This is a relief after the hot city," she told him when they were seated at a little table overlooking the water a few minutes later.

They were really having a beautiful time, and Janet was thanking her lucky stars that tomorrow was Sunday and she wouldn't have to stifle in that hot office again, when her eye fell on a rather stout lady coming down the room toward them. It was her cousin, Anna Forbush—and she had seen them! Janet did not even know the name of the man with whom she was dining and she couldn't ask him now. What a frightful situation to be passed around to all the aunts in the family by Anna's loving hand! Janet wished that she had taken her mother's early advice.

"How delightful!" cried Mrs. Forbush—"how absolutely delightful to meet you here, Ward Franklin! And with Janet, too. I had no idea you two knew each other!"

"Why, I've known Janet for ages," fabricated Franklin, looking straight into her eyes and praying that they would be spared further questions.

Janet felt that she was sinking—never in her life had she been in such a position, it was dreadful!

"I suppose you met at the magazine office where Janet works. Didn't they run your last novel in a serial before it came out in book form?"

"Yes, that was it exactly," put in Janet, feeling that things were steadily getting worse.

"When is your new book coming out?" asked Mrs. Forbush.

"In the fall, I hope. It's so hot in town, though, no one can do much work. Janet and I just came down for a little swim to see if we could get cool."

"How was the water?"

"Fine!" declared Franklin and Janet in the same breath, without looking at each other.

"Well, we're awfully glad we ran into you. Can't you both come down to dinner some night next week—we'd love to have you."

"I think we'd better be going," began Janet nervously, picking up her purse and gloves. "It's a long way to my little flat and I don't want to get home late."

Franklin took her home, and when he said good night at her door he thanked her for the pleasant evening he had had in years.

"Will you go for a ride with me tomorrow afternoon?" as added hopefully.

"It's too soon, isn't it?"

"Not for me—is it for you?"

"I don't know—what time?"

"About five—we can have dinner somewhere in the country. Would your mother like to come?"

"Oh, she'd love it—how sweet of you!"

"Good night, Janet." He held her hand so long that she withdrew it at last.

"I've had the nicest time I've had in years, too," she told him before she finally closed the door.

Then she went to her room and decided to hang up her neglected bathing suit before going to bed. And when she opened the poor battered bundle she took out, for the second time—Franklin's suit. Then she sat down and burst out laughing.

"I'll give it to him tomorrow," she decided, happily.

REGISTER'S NOTICES.

The following Administrators' Executors' and Guardians' Accounts have been filed in the Register's Office for confirmation in the Orphans' Court of Bedford County on Monday April 18, 1921.

1. The Second and Final Account of William W. Knight and Jesse F. Knight, Executors and Trustees to sell the real estate of Eliza E. Knight, late of Southampton Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

2. The First and Final Account of Jacob R. McKinney, Administrator of the estate of Mary McKinney, late of Napier Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

3. The Account of Philip Ickes and Milton Ickes, Executors of the estate of Alexander Ickes, late of King Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

4. The First and Final Account of Jordan A. Kerr, Administrator of the estate of George Kerr, late of Harrison Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

5. The First and Final Account of W. H. Stephen Feight, Executor of the last Will and Testament of Catharine E. Ritchey, late of East Providence Township, Bedford County Pennsylvania, deceased.

6. The Account of W. I. Woodcock, Administrator of the Estate of A. B. Woodcock, late of South Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

7. The Account of Mary Jane Williams and Ida Belle Williams, Executors of the last Will and Testament of George M. Williams, late of Bedford Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

8. The First Account of Frank M. Frazer, Administrator of the Estate of James Frazer, late of Napier Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

9. The Account of J. W. Stair and Lewis H. Stair, Trustees to sell the real estate of Christian C. Stair, late of Londonderry Township, Bedford County Pennsylvania, deceased.

10. The First and Final Account of J. G. Krichbaum, Executor of the Estate of Daniel B. Replogle, late of Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

11. The First and Final Account of Jacob Wisegarver, Administrator of the Estate of Joseph W. Weyant, late of East St. Clair Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

12. The First and Final Account of Alvin L. Little, Administrator of the Estate of John B. Young, late of Liberty Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

13. The Account of Alice Davis Administrator and Trustee to sell the Real Estate of George W. Davis, late of South Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

14. The Account of William H. Howsare and Ella Arnold, Executors of the last Will and Testament of Mary Arnold, late of Bedford Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

15. The Account of Daniel Miller, Executor of the last Will and Testament of Mary C. Gordon, late of Napier Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

16. The First and Final Account of G. W. Davis, Executor of the last Will and Testament of Sarah Harbaugh, late of West St. Clair Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

17. The Account of Levi H. Whetstone, Executor of the last Will and Testament of Mary A. Lutz, late of Colerain Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

18. The Account of Rev. Joseph H. Clapper and E. M. Pennell, Administrators of the Estate of Leah Christopher, late of Hopewell Borough, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

19. The First and Final Account of Carrie B. Kinzey, Administratrix of the Estate of George M. D. Otto, late of Napier Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

20. The First and Final Account of S. A. Reed, Trustee to sell the Real Estate of William M. Reed and Mary C. Reed, late of Liberty Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

21. The First and Final Account of Thomas F. Clingerman, Administrator of the Estate of Jacob L. Clingerman, late of Mann Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

22. The First and Final Account of George W. Ebersole Executor of the last Will and Testament of Polly Ebersole, late of South Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

23. The First and Final Account of J. A. Imler, late of Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

24. The Account of Joseph Wilson, Guardian for Ettie B. Foor, Arath E. Foor and Daisy I. Foor, minor children of Andrew J. Foor, late of West Providence Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

25. The First and Final Account of Monroe Burket, Administrator of the Estate of Andrew Russell Houpp late of Saxton Borough, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

W. B. Mock,
Register.

Mar. 25 Apr 15.

Ancient Song.
The English-speaking peoples' song of acclamation, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," is sung to a tune that has been popular for a thousand years or more. Composed, it is said, in Babylon the ancient Egyptians popularized it in Africa and Asia Minor, where the Arabs sang it to this day.

"Cutting a wide swath" in any walk of life means that you must have good blood, steady nerves and strength in reserve.

Just as our soldiers showed they had the red blood of courage, so will you have the necessary "pep" and the right kind of blood if you make the blood redder and your health better by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. For over fifty years this tonic and blood purifier has had the endorsement of the American public. Last year over a million bottles were sold. So why put off the day of purchase?—Buy NOW (either liquid or tablets) of your nearest druggist.

Women Made Young

Bright eyes, a clear skin and a body full of youth and health may be yours if you will keep your system in order by regularly taking

GOLD MEDAL-
LANE OIL

is world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, and blood troubles, the remedy of life and looks. In use since 1695. All druggists, three sizes. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation.

CLASSIFIED ADS

WANTED

Good, clean rags large. No strips wanted, apply at Gazette Office,
Bedford, Pa.

FOR SALE

Residence on East Penn street. Hot water heat. Electric lights and Bath. Corner lot 60x240 ft.
Barn 24x36 ft. Additional out buildings.
See F. C. Pate.

WANTED

A middle aged woman to keep house on farm. Good location, modern convenience and good wages to right party. Widow lady with family preferred. Inquire in care of Gazette, Bedford.
Mar. 19 tf.

FOR SALE

10-Horse power gasoline Engine, only used about six months. See Davidson Lumber Co. Bedford, Pa.
Mar. 25—April 1.

FOR SALE

The Samson Plaster Board not because it is Samson strongest but because its made better. You can not bend it or break it or burn it. You can plaster on it and paper or paint it.
Sold by Davidson Lumber Co. Mar. 25 tf.

SHIPMENT OF BIG HORSES ARRIVED

Clarence Beckley of Alum Bank has just arrived home with a load of big horses and farm mares and a few colts.
April 1 1 ti.

FOR RENT

Office on second floor of Ridenour Block and one apartment of three rooms, formerly occupied by Miss Mellon, in Ridenour Building on north side of Pitt street. Apply to J. W. Ridenour.
April 1, 1 ti.

NINETEEN CATTLE FOR SALE

We will sell at Public Sale FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 1921 at one o'clock on the farm of Philip C. Diehl, Friend's Cove, nineteen registered Holstein cows and heifers, mostly granddaughters of the King of Pontiac, No. 39037 all tested and free from tuberculosis.
By Association.
April 1 ti *

MOVING NOTICE

We have moved our shop to the rear of Bedford Garage where we will be prepared to take care of radiators and sheet metal work. Drive back.
Harvey Price,
County Phone
April 1—8—15 *

Ten dollars reward will be paid for the apprehension and conviction of the parties that trespass and steal coal from my coal yards.
Sol. C. Ritchey,
April 1 1 ti.

LOST

Pair Tortoise Shell spectacles between Ridenour's residence and Fort Bedford Inn. Reward for return to
J. W. Ridenour,
Apr. 1 ti.

WANTED

Agents wanted in Bedford and vicinity to solicit orders for men's SALCO CLOTHES, from factory direct to wearer at wholesale prices.
J. Salsburg Sons & Co.
Philadelphia, Pa.
April 1—8 *

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors who were so kind and helpful during our recent bereavement.
John Bankes,
Chas. Debaugh and family.

PUBLIC SALE

On Saturday, April 2, 1921, Charles I. Hite of Cumberland Valley will offer for sale the following personal property:

Three work horses, three head of milk cows, wagon, spring wagon, buggy and harness, single and double, work harness, mowing machine and hay rake, cultivator, riding plow, other plows, potato digger and planter, harrow, collars, bridles and a host of other articles.
Terms: Six months.

PUBLIC SALE

M. I. Martin and W. Clay Martin of Inglesmith, will offer for sale on Wednesday, April 20, 1921 at 10 A. M. the following personal property:

Three head of horses, Three cows two now fresh, two hogs, 40 chickens, wagon, sled, buggy, corn planter, spring tooth harrow, plows, harness, bridles, collars, corn, oats, rye, wheat, stack of hay. 10-Horse power gasoline engine and feed mill, platform scales, 1921 motor cycle with roadster side car, Wherle Range cook stove, cupboards, copper kettle, clocks, bureau, stephens rifle, shot gun and other articles.
Terms: Nine months.
E. M. Simpson, Auctioneer
George W. Morse, Clerk.

POINT

Irwin Nunamaker moved his family to near New Paris where he had bought a property from his father-in-law Allen Harbaugh last week.

Grant Snyder moved to the property vacated by Mr. Nunamaker the same day. Mr. Snyder bought the property from the former. This property has changed owners four times within the last five years.

William Moore moved from the King property on Saturday morning to Schellsburg. Mr. M. C. King sold the old homestead to Mr. W. H. Shaffer who will move on Tuesday and will erect a Blacksmith Shop on it and will conduct a first class Blacksmith business. Mr. Shaffer is a first class blacksmith having learned the trade.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. King of Altoona has been in this community for several days getting some household goods that he had never moved and getting ready to turn the old home over to other owners.

Mrs. Oscar Herschberger also moved last Wednesday to near Spring Hope where she and her mother, Mrs. John Davis will live together.

There are two houses in this community not yet rented. Isaac Blackburn's tenant house is still not rented. Mr. Blackburn wants to rent it to some one that will work for him on the farm. The other is known as the T. R. Studebaker place which is owned by a Mr. Miller who lives in Somerset Co. and who intended to move there himself but has lately changed his mind and the property is for rent.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hillegass and son and wife of Juniata township were Sunday guests of their daughters family. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gohn. Frank Gohn of Nanty Glo and Paul Lambert of Windber were their guests also.

Lester Manges who was operated for appendicitis at the Windber hospital recently is getting along fine and is getting very anxious to get back to this community and his work.

THE WILLOWS

Miss Edith Koonitz of Everett spent Sunday with her brother Mr. Warren Koonitz and family.

Mr. George Heit and two sons of Bedford and Miss Nellie Heit of Pittsburgh visited their parents Mr. and Mrs. William Heit.

Miss Lillian Amick returned to her home after spending a few days with relatives and friends near Mattle.

Mrs. C. C. Foreman and daughter Selene called on relatives in Bedford Sunday.

Mrs. S. S. Baker visited friends in Bedford recently.

Mr. George Reed called on relatives and friends at Lutzville on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace of Altoona are spending some time with home folks.

Mrs. Joe Means and son Wallace of Breeseville, Rt. 2. Mr. E. F. Amick of Ellerslie, Md., Mrs. E. F. Foreman, daughter Miriam and Vesta and Pearl Amick of Bedford and Mr. Michael Means of Clearville, Rt. 2 were recent callers at the home of Mr. M. J. Amick.

Mr. and Mrs. David Calhoun and family of Menchtown were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. Ross Clark.

Mr. Leonard Heller of Everett called on Mr. Clarence Foreman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Diehl, Mrs. Frank Mannspeak and Mr. Albert Foreman of Bedford spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Foreman and wife.

Messrs Warren and Edward Pickes and three sisters, Mabel, Dorothy and Freda visited friends in Snake Spring Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nagler of Bedford visited the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bollman.

Mr. E. B. Reighard and daughter, Emma Grace of Ellerslie, Md., Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Amick and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pepple of Bedford visited Mrs. S. S. Baker.

IMLERTOWN

Mrs. J. C. Stickler and daughter Helen spent the past week with relatives in Bedford and Cumberland Valley.

Last Saturday evening the inhabitants of our town motored to Bedford. There being no customers at the stores one of our merchants finally closed his establishment and likewise went to Bedford to the show, there was nothing else for Thurauch and Price to do but walk the streets.

Mrs. Lester Feather of Chalybeateville spent over Sunday night with her husband here.

Mrs. D. F. Dibert and daughter Virginia spent Saturday and Sunday with the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Heitzel near Cessna.

Miss Ethel V. Dibert of Homestead, Pa. spent Sunday P. M. and Monday with D. O. Price and family.

Quite a few of our people attended the funeral of Shannon Dibert Monday at Pleasant Valley.

Geo. Stickler and family spent Easter with Luther Mock near Chalybeateville.

Miriam Little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Price who suffered the past week with pneumonia has greatly improved.

H. I. Harclerode is building a new porch to the rear of his house.

The O. R. W. Dively lumber works is not running any over time now.

Seeking Her Pay.

Advertisement in London Paper—Mrs. Hawke would be glad to employ a woman for domestic work.—Boston

SCHELLSBURG

Mrs. Oscar Hyde and two children of Ebensburg are guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Colvin.

Mr. Harvey Metger and family of Cumberland, Earl Metger and family of Frostburg, George Metger and family of New Kensington and Miss Helen Metger spent Easter with their parents Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Metger.

Mr. H. C. Heckerman of Bedford will give an entertainment in the Reformed church on Wednesday night (April 6 showing Stereoptican views of Japan and the World's S. S. Convention).

Dr. R. B. Colvin and family of Berlin were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Colvin on Easter.

Adam Black and wife left on Sunday for Johnstown.

Geo. Fisher moved from the Harvey Hillegass farm on Monday to the house vacated by Harry Smith last week on Vine Street.

Rush Clark and family of Johnstown were guests of Miss Jessie Clark on Sunday.

Rev. Kerr left Monday for his new field of labor.

There has been quite a change in the atmosphere since Sunday.

C. B. Colvins have moved into their new house on Main St.

Harry Burns and family of Martinsburg were recent guests of friends here.

Jos. Mock had sale of his farming tools on last Friday and expects to work on the State Road this summer.

CHANEYSVILLE

Mr. Cleveland Oster has moved to Cumberland Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perrin and children of Everett, Pa., visited the wives and friends in Chaneyville on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Perrin and children of Everett, Pa. visited the latter's parents Mr. B. F. Swartzwelder Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hast and daughter visited the latter's parents Mr. Philip Swartzwelder on Saturday and Sunday.

A number of the people around Chaneyville attended the Revival Meeting at Prosperity on Sunday evening.

The Easter Service at Chaneyville was largely attended.

Those visiting Mr. Jacob Adams Sunday were Messrs Grover Beck, Elmer Walters, James Littlefield and Miss Flossie Beck.

Miss Olive Swartzwelder who is teaching in Beans Cove visited home folks, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gorden and son Charles and Leo Adams visited the former's sister Mrs. David Furlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Logue and two sons Blair and James visited the latter's sister Mrs. Thomas Tewell of this place.

Peach Blossom.

SPRING HOPE

We have had a change of atmosphere during the past few days and nights. Some predict the fruit frozen.

Cal King and wife of Altoona were visitors at this place last week.

Cal Smith recently had a well drilled by Frank Hiner of Schellsburg.

Harry Burns, wife, son and daughter former residents of this place are visiting relatives and friends here.

Mr. Burns moved to Martinsburg last spring but recently sold out his property and goods prior to going to Almont, Bucks Co., where he is going into the Mercantile business.

Tuesday seemed to be moving day around here.

Henry Shaffer moved from Elmer Wrights house to Point where he bought a property this spring. Mr. Shaffer is a good neighbor and an expert blacksmith and we are sorry to lose him here.

Draper Smith moved from near Point to Spring Hope into the house vacated by Mr. Shafer.

Pearls Brown moved into the Albert Wolf farm, vacated by Walter Miller Mr. Miller moved to the Deaner farm near Ryan's Mill.

Miss Martha Mc Coy is working for Isaac Blackburn at present.

Mrs. John Davis and daughter Mrs. Carrie Herschberger moved into the Mrs. Bailey property on Wednesday.

Pilgrim.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

ESTATE OF Andrew J. Price, late of Bedford Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

Letters testamentary having been granted the undersigned executors named in the last will and testament of Andrew J. Price late of Bedford Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased, all persons having claims or demands against the estate of the said decedent are hereby notified to present the same without delay for payment, and all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make prompt payment of the same.

Edward Price
Espy Price
James A. Heming,
Executors.
Bedford, Pa. Rt. 3

E. M. Pennell,
Attorney.
April 1 May 6

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Sixth Session of the Osterburg Summer Normal will open May 2nd and continue eight weeks. Provisional and Professional Courses for teachers are offered.

Grade work will be given our best attention. Also a special course in the Palmer System of Business Penmanship is a feature.

Tuition for Professional Course $10.00
Tuition for Grade Work $5.00
Special charge for extra Professional Branches.

W. Clarence Weyant, Prin.
Cresson, Pa.
J. Warren MacLay, Asst.
Hyndman, Pa.

SHERIFF'S SALES

By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Bedford County, and to me directed there will be exposed to public sale, at the Court House in Bedford Borough, County of Bedford and State of Pennsylvania, on

Saturday, April 16, 1921

at one o'clock p. m. the following real estate, viz:

All the defendant's right, title and interest in all those three certain tracts, pieces or parcels of land, more particularly described as follows:

No. 1. A tract of land situate, lying and being in West St. Clair Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, adjoining lands of Samuel Stuffs, George W. Knisely, Belle Miller, Joseph Kisely and Earnest Bellas, containing 103 acres, 49 perches, more or less. All cleared and under fence, and having thereon erected a new FRAME BARN with slate roof; and improved with two young apple orchards. Known as the "Reininger Farm."

No. 2. A tract of land situate, lying and being in West St. Clair Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, adjoining lands of Eliot Allison, Rachel McDonald, Earnest Bellas, Watson Dingemelter, and Eli Berkey, known as the "Snyder Farm," containing 172 acres, 10 perches, net, about 140 acres cleared and fenced, and the balance in timber. Having thereon erected a two-story LOG DWELLING, large frame bank barn, hog house and wagon shed combined, and a modern chicken house; and improved with a large bearing orchard of pears, plums and apples.

No. 3. A tract of land situate, lying and being in West St. Clair and Union Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, known as the "Claycomb Farm," adjoining lands of Irvin Claycomb, Geo. Clark, William and Geo. Berkeimer, and the heirs of Margaret Mowry and Jane Barefoot, containing 105 acres, more or less about 75 acres cleared and fenced and the balance in timber. Having thereon erected a two-story FRAME DWELLING with slate roof and large chicken house and other outbuildings.

A description of the above three tracts of land by courses and distances may be found by reference to the deed of John M. Egolf and Sarah J. Egolf to Lena M. Mowry, dated February 21, 1916 and recorded in the Recorder's Office of Bedford County in Deed Book Vol 130, page 302.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of Lena M. Mowry and G. S. Mowry, defendants.

Also, all of the defendants' right, title and interest of in and to the following described tract of land situate lying and being in Lincoln township, Bedford County, Pa. adjoining lands on the East and North by Lowry Harr West by E. L. Bartow and South Amos Edward and Blaizdell McDonald. Containing 128 acres, about 50 acres cleared and balance in timber, having thereon erected a two story dwelling house, frame bank barn 40x64 feet and all necessary outbuildings. A lot of fruit trees and running water.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of John W. Rouzer, defendant.

TERMS: The price for which the property is sold must be paid at the time of sale, or such other arrangements made as will be approved, otherwise the property will immediately be put up and sold at the risk and at the expense of the person to whom it was first sold, who in case of deficiency, at such resale shall make good the same, and in no instances will the deed be acknowledged unless the money is actually paid to the sheriff. Purchasers who are lien creditors must secure a certified list of liens for the sheriff in order to apply the amount of bid or any part thereof on their liens.

J. M. Fink, Sheriff.
April 1—8—15.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

ESTATE OF Wesley Collins, late of Southampton township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

Letters testamentary on the above estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make prompt payment and those having claims to present the same without delay to

Johnson Collins,
Elbiville, Pa.
Sanford W. Collins,
Cumberland, Md.
Executors.

Chas. R. Mock, Attorney.
Hartley Bank Building,
Bedford, Pa.
Mar 11th Apr. 15

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

ESTATE OF Amanda Harbaugh, late of Napier Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

Letters of administration on the above estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make prompt payment, and those having claims to present the same without delay to

Stanley E. Blackburn, Administrator,
New Paris, Pa.

D. C. Reiley,
Attorney.
Mar. 4 to April 8.

Pleasant Hill Reformed Church.
On Sunday April 3rd Rev. J. Albert Eyer will preach in this church and administer the Holy Communion at 2:30 P. M. The offering will be for the Apportionment. Let's make it one great big effort and finish it up at this service.

Richelieu Theatre
Bedford, Pa.

Where All Bedford County Go

Our Motto: Clean Pictures

County Phone 124 W

TODAY and TOMORROW
(Friday and Sat. Apr. 1 and 2)

Jesse L. Lasky Presents
GEORGE MELFORD'S PRODUCTION
"Behold My Wife!"

If you saw Melford's "Everywoman" or "Sea Wolf" you will know what to expect of "Behold my Wife". Canadas' drawing rooms, and the biggest, deepest things in human hearts.

First show 7 Second 9
Matinee every Saturday at 3

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
(April 4 and 5.)
Marry Pickford in
"Pollyanna"

from Eleanor H. Porter's novel "Pollyanna". Absolutely the greatest and best production Mary Pickford has ever turned out. It is eight reels of Sunshine and Happiness, every member of every family should see this SPECIAL NOTICE: In order that all the Kiddies may have a chance to see this wonderful production we have arranged a special matinee at 4 p. m. on Monday, all school children (whether in the high school or not) will be admitted for 11c at this special matinee.
First show 7 Second 9

SCHELLSBURG NORMAL SCHOOL

Will open May 2, 1921, for a term of eight weeks. Courses specially planned for teachers and those preparing to teach. Course also offered Eighth Grade Students. For full information, address,
George L. Wolfe, Principal,
Schellsburg, Pa.
April 1—22

Friend's Cove—Rainsburg Lutheran Pastorate

Rev. J. A. Brosius, Minister
Services for Sunday, April 3, 1921.
Rainsburg 10 A. M. Communion Services.

St. Mark's 2:30 P. M.
Bald Hill 7:30 P. M.
A cordial welcome extended to all.

St. James Episcopal
Rev. R. Bancroft Whipple, Rector.
Services next Sunday at 11. Sermon appropriate for the Easter season. All cordially invited.

WEDNESDAY (Apr. 6th)

Billy Burke

in the Paramount Artcraft Special Production:

"Away Goes Prudence"

See the loveliest girl in pictures in her merriest madcap romance. A thrilling Comedy Drama that is considered her best this season. And Special two reel comedy

"The Simp"

A laugh from start to finish.

First show 7

Second 8:45

THURSDAY (Apr. 7)

Ethel Clayton in the special Paramount Artcraft production.

"The Ladder of Lies"

What did the cynic who wrote of the "Lies in Woman's eyes," know of a woman's HEART?

See this great romance of a girl who lived a lie for another, all brightened with smiles, crowned with a joyous ending. Also

Special two reel comedy

First show at 7

Second 8:45

FRIDAY and SATURDAY

(April 8 and 9)

Maurice Turner who produced the "Bluebird" and "Treasure Island" will present James Fenimore Cooper's immortal Indian Story:

"The Last of the Mohicans"

This is a true story of early American history and a story every American will enjoy.

Those kiddies how they grow. A photograph would remind you how they looked yesterday.

The McCreary Studio

Arithmetical Problem.

A country lad went to a neighboring town and applied for a situation advertised in the local paper. One of the questions was: "A man buys an article for $4.00 and sells it for $3.04; does he gain or lose on the transaction?" After pondering the question, the rural youth answered: "He gains on the dollars, but loses on the cents."